GIRLS END PHONE STRIKE

SEIZED WITH ARMS FOR CHINA UPRISING

New York, July 19.—Foo Sang, a dealer in firearms, and Wong Tee, a sailor, arrested in possession of automatic pistols, which they admitted were intended for revolutionists in Southern China, were held today for violation of the State law against possession of firearms. They are alleged to have had thirty-six pistols and 3,000 rounds of ammunition.

SLIGHT QUAKE IS FELT IN MESSINA

Rome, July 19 (I.N.S.).—An earthquake shock was felt at Messina today. Only slight damage was reported. Messina is near Mount Etna.

To The Public

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has stated its determination to carry out the promise which it has made to its new operators that they shall have permanent positions if they make good and desire to remain with the company; and that in consequence it can not take back into its employ all of the striking operators.

Nevertheless, in its statement of July 1 the Company recognized a responsibility to "those young women who, misguided but otherwise well-intentioned, deserted their post of duty by reason of bad advice; and who did not realize the serious nature of their act as employees enlisted in the public service."

Inquiries are being made as to the attitude of the Company in the matter of re-employment of such of these girls as we have places for.

The following conditions are being carried out in the case of girls who are daily being taken back into the service:

WAGES

This matter does not involve a relationship between employees. The Company is making no attempt to adjust wages on the basis of new employment. On the contrary, a striking operator who may be taken back into the service will receive the wages to which her full length of service entitles her and will progress in the wage scale as her total service with the Company would normally entitle her to do.

SENIORITY PRACTICES

These practices constitute not only a relationship between the Company and its operators but a relationship between different operators in the matter of choice of tricks to be worked, time when vacations shall be taken, and similar matters. Here the position of the Company is primarily governed by its obligations to its loyal operators who have continued to give service to the public.

a. As between operators who remained at work, including such operators as returned to the switchboards on or before July 2, 1923, and striking operators accepted for re-employment subsequent to July 2, 1923, the privileges of the latter under these practices will be junior.

b. Other seniority questions will be worked out from time to time as the needs of the service in the several offices affected by the strike may seem to require, and in accordance with the general policies outlined by the Company in its statement of July 1, 1923.

BENEFIT PLAN

The Benefit Plan, maintained by the Company without cost to its employees, provides that the rights of the latter thereunder shall depend upon continuous service and consequently striking operators have lost all rights thereunder, but the Company has decided to liberalize this situation in the following manner:

Striking employees who returned to work on or before July 2, 1923, will retain all rights under the plan except for the brief period during which they were absent from the service.

A right to benefits accruing to employees in case of accident will be restored to all striking employees who may be accepted for re-employment subsequent to July 2, 1923, immediately upon their re-employment.

In the case of striking operators who may be accepted for re-employment subsequent to July 2, 1923, all other rights under the plan will be restored after a probationary period of one year to the full extent that the total length of service of such operator with the Company would entitle her.

THE SITUATION

The Company desires to carry out any obligations which it may have to the young women mentioned above but the needs of a public service do not permit us to idly await the return of our striking operators. Daily we are adding permanent employees and daily the number of places that can be made available for operators now on strike grows smaller.

The good news is out! Next Tuesday's crowd of Boston American Mother and Children guests will be greater by 1,500.

Through the courtesy and big-heartedness of Frederick Lane, general manager of the Nantasket Beach Steamboat Company, another of the line's palatial steamer boats has been placed at the exclusive disposal of the Boston American.

47 HURT IN $500,000 BLAZE

Sulphur fumigating candles were blamed today for the four-alarm fire that threatened the South Boston waterfront and caused $500,000 damage to the five-story brick building owned by the Fairbanks Company, scale manufacturers, Nos. 574 to 594 Congress street, South Boston.

The fire still burned today, although under control. More than 200 firemen played fifty-two streams on the blaze all forenoon.

'RABBIT' IS FINED; THEN REARRESTED

Rabbit Maranville.

Walter J. Maranville's automobile mishaps, which cost him a fine from Pittsburgh ball club on May 18 when he was arrested at Beacon and Park streets, Brookline, after driving his machine onto the sidewalk, were continued in Brookline court today.

A charge of drunkenness was filed, but he was fined $100 for operating a car while in that condition.

The "Rabbit" separated with his fine quite pleasantly, although spending money is a painful operation for most ball players, and was about to call it a day when he was rearrested outside the court by Newton police for violating traffic laws there.

He was taken to Newton court to be charged with speeding and failing to stop his machine when halted

BEVERLY GIRL WANDERS 7 MILES IN NIGHTDRESS

The myterious disappearance of a twenty-year-old girl in her night clothes early today from the home of Mrs. Arthur Phillips of No. 5 Prospect avenue, Beverly, where she was visiting, caused much excitement.

Every Beverly police officer was summoned to a search by a general alarm. This was followed by a military call which was to be followed at daybreak by a call to all citizens.

Armed with searchlights, men scoured the shore and woods for three hours, but no trace of the girl found.

At 4 a. m., two men in an automobile girl found her wandering on the State road seven miles from her home. She was taken into the machine and covered with blankets.

At McDonald square, Lynn, the car ran out of gasoline. The men then carried her to Lynn police headquarters. Beverly officials were notified.

The girl was Miss Ethel Vatcher of Cliftondale.

"I was lonesome for home," she said, "so thought I'd slip away."

She will return to Beverly. She has been suffering from a nervous malady.

MOST OF THE OPERATORS TAKEN BACK

Lawrence, July 19.—The local union of telephone operators in this city, on strike since June 26, voted today to declare the strike off at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Conditions under which the strikers will return to work have been arranged.

The regional council of the Telephone Operators' Department of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, the governing body, approved the terms of settlement at a special meeting today.

This body is composed of delegates from all the different locals. It has the power to accept the company proposal or reject it.

Nevertheless, although supreme, the council decided to put the issue before each subordinate organization.

This was due, presumably, to the voicing of opposition by some of the younger strikers who grouped in the corridor of Lorimer Hall today while

FIREMEN HURT AND WATCHMAN CRUSHED AS ENGINE TIPS OVER

4 MEN TRAPPED ON LADDER ESCAPE TNROUGH FLAMES

above the roof made the fire one of the most spectacular in the history of Boston, according to Chief John O. Tabor.

FORT-SEVEN HURT.

Forty-seven persons were injured. Some of the fireman were so affected by the smoke that they will be incapacitated for a long period, doctors said.

The injured:

Edmund T. Bowler, fireman, No. 80 Nonquin street, Dorchester, was overcome by smoke. He was taken to the City Hospital.

Edmund T. Bowler

Harry Irons, sixty-eight years old, No. 33 Bowden street, West End, a watchman at No. 93 A street, was crushed against that building when Engine No. 43 struck the curb and tipped over. He was removed to the City Hospital.

M. J. Riley, a hoseman, of Engine No. 42, was cut and bruised when the truck tipped.

Lieutenant Charles A. Ingersoll, in command or Engine No. 43, suffered minor injuries. With the men who were able, he proceeded to the fire and remained on duty.

Captain Hamilton McCay, of Ladder 2, was overcome by smoke and taken to City Hospital.

Lieutenant Walter Davis, Engine 39, was overcome by smoke and taken to City Hospital.

Hoseman John Ryan, engine 39, was cut and bruised and treated by City Hospital physicians.

Henry Marden, Engine Company No. 38, of No. 8 Puritan avenue, Dorchester, suffered a fractured rib when a hose line burst. He was treated and remained on duty.

Arthur Short, Engine Company 3, was removed to the Haymarket Relief Hospital when he was overcome by smoke.

John McIntyre, Engine Company 1, was overcome by fumes and heat on the top floor. He was rescued by members of his own company, and taken to the Haymarket Relief Hospital.

Twenty-three others were treated by City Hospital surgeons on the scene for minor cuts and burns.

TRAPPED ON LADDER.

Four firemen were trapped on a ladder at the fourth floor of the burning building when the ladder caught fire. Flames cut off their escape through the building. They escaped by a hurried descent of the blazing ladder suffering minor burns.

The building was occupied on the first two floors by the Fairbanks Company, manufacturers of scales, trucks and other devices. C. E. Thyng is the manager.

The three upper floors were occupied by the Thompson-Kelly Company, dealers in surplus Army supplies.

The building is bounded by Congress street, the New Haven Railroad yard tracks, A street and Stillings street. It is owned by the Boston Wharf Company.

No one was in the building at the time the fire started, according to firemen.

Fred Allen, a New Haven Railroad engineer, backed an engine up behind the building and moved most of the freight cars threatened by the fire.

For a while the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company storehouse and the Crucible Steel Company of America building were threatened by the flames. Firemen under the direction of Chief Taber prevented the flames from spreading.

BLAST PREVENTED.

A possible hot-air explosion on the fourth floor was prevented when members of the rescue companies forced open a sliding door on that floor. Water, collected in the rooms behind the door, heated by the fire, rushed through the door when it was opened and blistered the feet of several of the firemen.

The flames did not go below the fourth floor, due to the fireproof construction of the building. But one floor was burned through.

Ammonia fumes from burning wool on the fourth and fifth floors hampered the work of the firemen and overcame several of them.

Three women and two men from the Salvation Army headquarters supplied the firemen with sandwiches and hot coffee. Two automobiles were in constant use transporting provisions from headquarters to the Salvation Army workers at the fire.

SOUTH BOSTON BUILDING BURNS

The spectacular blaze at Nos. 574-594 Congress street, South Boston, threatened surrounding buildings. The Fairbanks and Thompson-Kelly Companies are the occupants.

DEMAND KLAN LIST IN HUNT

Lumberton, N. C., July 19.—The grand klaliff of the Ku Klux Klan in North Carolina and the head of the Fairmont klavern were under subpoena today to produce membership records of the Fairmont organization at the trial here of three men on charges growing out of the flogging of two white women near Proctorville last April.

Developments drawing the Klan into the trial proceedings came after two of the men on trial, Johnson Hedgpeth and Jule Brogden, in protesting their innocence of any connection with the flogging, had denied on the stand that they were members of the Klan.

State counsel, in requesting issuance of the subpoenas on the Klan officials, said they wanted to determine whether Mike Lawson, chief of police at Fairmont, who is the other defendant, was a member of the organization. They also sought to determine, they said, whether H. L. Tallaferro, who is under indictment on charges of tampering with State's witnesses, has any connection with the Klan.

Mrs. Mary Watson, a sister of Hedgepeth, and Mrs. Hattie Purvis, victims of the alleged flogging, have testified that all three of the accused men were members of a robed band which entered their homes, took them to a nearby negro church, and whipped them.

They testified there were 18 men in the band and described each as wearing a white robe, marked with a red star, and a tall, white, red-tasseled helmet.

DOUBLE DIVORCE ASKED BY VOLCKS

Paris, July 19.—A double divorce suit has been filed here by Morris Roderick Volck of New York, and his wife, Mildred Lucile Everett Volck, who were married at Long Branch, N. J., in June, 1913. The husband served formal summons for his wife to return to him. The wife's counter-suit says her husband is too jealous.

Mr. Volck is a son of Mme. da Gama, wife of the Brazilian ambassador to Great Britain.

PHONE STRIKE IS ENDED

Miss O'Connor addressed the strikers.

Today the members of the different locals of girl operators are ratifying the conditions of settlement arranged by the officials of the telephone company and their own wage adjustment board.

Most of the girls who went out on strike will be taken back. A number whose activities have been most conspicuous during the four weeks of trouble may never be taken back and there is a comparatively small number whose future employment by the company will depend upon adjustment of their cases to be determined by conference of company and union officials.

Under the new order of things the employes who remained "loyal" to the company by refusing to join the strikers will have a preference in consideration for promotions, places of employment and vacations this year. The strikers who return will suffer no loss of pay, will not be assigned to inferior stations, but will be deprived of the benefits of the company's benefit association for one year.

There is an understanding between the officials of the company and the union relative to the re-employment of the striking operators. It is agreed that the girls shall not rush back to the exchanges where they were formerly at work in large groups, but that they shall be taken back steadily in small groups.

MAY REMAIN IN UNION.

It is a part of this understanding that the strikers shall not be required by the company to foreswear allegiance to their union.

Officials of the National Department of the Telephone Operators, including Miss Julia S. O'Connor, president; Miss Rose Sullivan, vice-president; Miss Theresa Sullivan, treasurer, and Mrs. Mary Q. Wynne of Springfield, Miss Margaret B. Hickey of Brockton, Miss Anna M. Foley of Worcester, Miss Mary H. Brady of Providence, Miss Elizabeth Cleary of Lynn, Miss Mary E. O'Brien, Miss Mary A. Lally and Miss Mary I. Brooks of Boston, who constitute the wage scale committee of the operators' union, have been in touch with the various locals of the New England district today and feel sure that the agreement reached with the telephone officials will be promptly ratified.

REAR-ADMIRAL SIGSBEE OF THE "MAINE" DEAD

New York, July 19.—Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee, U. S. N., retired, captain of the battleship Maine when it was torpedoed in Havana harbor in 1898, died suddenly at his home here, 539 W. 112th street today.

Charles D. Sigsbee.

Admiral Sigsbee had been in poor health for the last two years, though only yesterday he was out riding. His death was due to heart failure.

The arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but he will be buried at Arlington Cemetery, Washington, probably next Monday.

Rear Admiral Sigsbee was 78 years old. He was born at Albany, and was appointed to Annapolis from New York State in 1859. He served in the navy during the Civil War. He was promoted for gallantry displayed during the Spanish-American War.

New York, July 19.—Criminal prosecution for felonious assault faces Leo Putnam, Edward Lutes and Richard Galvin, attendants at the Brooklyn State Hospital, who have been dismissed from the institution for brutal treatment of insane patients. Assistant District Attorney George F. Palmer, Jr., will make a report today of testimony heard at the investigation before the Hospital Commission, looking toward the presentation of facts to a Grand Jury for indictments against the three men.

BREAK IN STRIKE AT NOVA SOTIA

Springhill Mines, N. S., July 19.—The order of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, directing suspension of the unauthorized strike of Nova Scotia miners bore first fruit today when the miners in the Westville district returned to work.

Decision to obey was reached at a meeting last night.

Reports from Sydney are that 4,000 members there had voted to defy the order.

Union men at Springhill mines predicted most of the miners on the mainland would side with President Lewis in ousting Daniel Livingstone, president of District No. 26, and J. B. MacLachlan, secretary of the district. The officials, however, have given notice of their intention to fight the ouster order.

TWO HURT BY FALLS ON STAIRS IN HOMES

A man and a woman are at the City Hospital suffering from serious injuries they received in falls down the stairs of their homes. Mrs. Florence O'Brien, twenty years old, of No. 131 Brook avenue, Roxbury, lost her balance and suffered injuries to her abdomen and both legs. Wife Jealous, Says Rector's Lawyer

Today

George Eastman's Idea.
Awake—Soon Asleep.
Cigar Stub Prosperity.
Poor Mr. Tagore.

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1923, by Star Company)

GEORGE EASTMAN, whose idea is to spend his money in Rochester for the benefit of the country that made him enormously rich, has added an opera school, to be paid for by him, of course, to the equipment of the Rochester University.

Generous scholarships enabling students to study abroad, and open to students in all American cities, are included in the program.

To stimulate and encourage knowledge of music in this country is better than building a college stadium for athletics. Music is as far above football, baseball or running as the brain is above the feet. For details, address George Eastman, Rochester, N. Y.

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE, rejoicing in Magnus Johnson's election, says: "The people are awake." So they are, Senator, but remember how easily the dear people go back to sleep again.

Wheat dropped below a dollar just as Minnesota voted and Johnson was elected. Let wheat hop up to two dollars and where will Johnson be?

A CLOSE OBSERVER says: "Longer cigar stubs point to prosperity." Men throwing away cigars half smoked prove they have plenty of money to buy more. That's a modern American idea of prosperity. When the late George M. Pullman was building his first sleeping cars, he gave up smoking entirely to save the cost of five-cent cigars. That was the way to achieve prosperity. Prosperity based on throwing things away won't last.

TAGORE SAYS he won't return to the United States. Our "selfish nationalistic spirit" shocked him.

Rabindranath Tagore Bengali, to give him his full name, is a good, gentle poet. But in America he missed the point that he should have taken back to his countrymen. If there were more of the offensive "selfish nationalistic spirit" in India, you wouldn't have thirty-odd millions of meat-eating, beer-drinking Englishmen ruling three hundred million vegetarian Asiatics thousands of miles away.

MR. DAUGHERTY, Attorney-General, will cut up the International Harvester Trust into three pieces, if he can. That news yesterday made stock exchange gentlemen put down the price of International Harvester. Wise ones probably were glad of the chance to buy it. Remember what happened to Standard Oil Company when a righteous, indignant government chopped that up into several pieces. The old company was worth about one thousand millions. The little chopped up pieces became worth seven thousand millions.

Four sabre-toothed tigers were worse than one dinosaur in the old days; more active, more efficient, less bulk to carry around.

Orchestra seats will cost $11. They would be cheap, if you could afford them, at $1,100. Every American actor and actress should study Duse. She knows how to do things WITHOUT effort. That's the great art.

ENGLAND WANTS FRANCE to modify her course in the Ruhr. French newspapers say England has gone back on her noble ideas "because she has a strong commercial interest in restoring Germany as a customer." Business does make a difference.

IT COSTS FIFTY CENTS to make a gallon of moonshine whiskey that sells for sixty dollars, after you put coloring matter, chemicals, etc., inside, and a good label outside. It will take a long fight to kill off a business that brings in sixty dollars for fifty cents, plus a label.

GIRL INJURED IN QUINCY CRASH

Miss Elsie Hopkins of No. 81 Dewey road, East Braintree, a collector for a furniture company, was badly bruised when her machine was demolished today in a head-on collision on Washington street, near City square, Quincy. Her car collided with an auto driven by Carl Wickerstrom of Parker street, Quincy, who was driving in the opposite direction. Miss Hopkins was not seriously injured, according to examining physicians.

NO BLONDE IN CLERIC'S CASE

Rev. Mr. Boag, Seeking Divorce in Seattle, Is Under Probe of Federal Agents

Seattle, Wash., July 19.—While the divorce petition of the Rev. Rainsford-Boag, Episcopal clergyman and lecturer and former assistant rector of the Calvary Episcopal church of Brooklyn, N. Y., is pending in Seattle courts, department of justice agents have been asked to investigate his strange career.

Boag, now a traveling lecturer for a film travelogue company, is said by Deputy Prosecutor Meacham to have deserted his wife, daughter of a major in the British army, and two children twelve years ago after an adventure with a blonde woman with whom he is said to have later eloped. The mysterious woman, Meacham declared today, is not the chorus girl with whom the clergyman is said to have associated, but a young secretary who accompanied him and his wife from England twenty years ago.

Attorney George Owen, Boag's lawyer, issued a statement absolutely denying that his client was associated "with any woman, blonde or brunette."

"The Rev. Boag is a man of high intellectual attainments. He has a magnetic personality and naturally was much sought after by members of his parish, both men and women. Mrs. Boag was extremely jealous and made the poor man's life miserable. His health finally broke down under the strain and he got a pastorate in a small South Dakota town. His wife absolutely refused to accompany him."

GERMANS READY TO YIELD

Paris Reports Offer to Cease Resistance if Ruhr Invaders Cut Army

Berlin, July 19 (I.N.S.)—In the face of open predictions of civil war, the Cuno cabinet today issued a statement warning the public any attempt to overthrow the government would be put down "ruthlessly and with force, no matter whether it came from the left or the right."

Paris, July 19 (AP).—The German government, through its embassy in London, is striving to have the forthcoming British note on reparations convey to the French government Germany's willingness to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr, subject to certain concessions on the part of France.

This information has reached the French government on what is regarded as unquestionable but unofficial authority.

These concessions appear to include:

First, withdrawal of the Franco-Belgian troops of occupation with the exception of a mere skeleton military force, which would in the diplomatic sense be "invisible."

Second, permission for the German officials and functionaries expelled from the Ruhr to return to their posts restoring the local administration of all civil services as it existed before January 11, when the occupation took place.

Third, that the French government agreed to restore the currency it confiscated.

These conditions, it is declared here, would be acceptable to the French government, because they are unaccompanied by any definite assurances or guarantees.

Likewise, it is explained, the French government feels that between France, which is enforcing the peace treaty, and Germany, which is refusing to execute it, it would not be equitable that Germany should impose conditions instead of yielding to the French demands.

Germany, it is asserted, must first cease her passive resistance, after which the French government would be disposed on its own account favorably to consider Germany's views, whereas it would not receive them in the nature of an ultimatum.

The British government, it is understood, is already aware of the French ministry's feeling on this subject.

The plane left the ground eight minutes and four seconds later than the take-off made by Lieutenant Maughan on his previous dawn to dusk flight.

Lieutenant Bertram J. Sherry, weather expert from Washington, declared the weather to be almost ideal for flying conditions, saying the light winds would be at the aviator's advantage.

BULLETIN.

Indianapolis, July 19.—Lieutenant Maughan passed over Indianapolis at 8:34 o'clock, Central Standard time.

Dayton, July 19.—Lieutenant Maughan arrived here at 8:35 a. m. and left at 8:53 Eastern standard time. This was his first stop on the trip. He ate a light lunch before resuming flight.

GERMANS IN NEW PROTEST AGAINST RUHR BLOCKADE

Berlin, July 19 (AP).—German representatives in London, Rome, Washington, and at the Vatican have been instructed to make representations against prolongation of the traffic blockade between the occupied and unoccupied territories of Germany, according to a semi-official statement.

London, July 19 (AP).—The British Cabinet held a protracted session today, at which the proposed reparation documents formed the main topic of discussion. It was still uncertain whether the documents—the draft reply to Germany and the accompanying note—would be forwarded to the other governments, including the United States, tonight.

It is recognized that these state papers may mark a turning point in Great Britain's relations to her neighbors. Therefore infinite care is being bestowed on their preparation by Lord Curzon, the Foreign Secretary, and his associates.

HUB YOUTH KILLED IN N.Y. HOTEL

William W. Edmonds, Electrical Engineer, Falls Five Stories in Air Shaft

New York, July 19.—William Warren Edmonds, twenty-one-year-old electrical engineer from Dorchester, Mass., was killed today in a fall from the fifth floor of the Hotel Bristol down an airshaft.

William N. Hasson of Boston, who occupied an apartment at the hotel with Edmonds, awoke in the night and saw his companion leaning out a window.

Edmonds fell before Hasson could reach him. His body struck the roof of a one-story extension. Still conscious, he received the last rites administered by a Catholic priest, and was taken to Bellevue, where he died.

GIRL WHO HID IN SWAMP ADMITS ATTACK

Wausau, Wis., July 19.—Mary Lawando, who was found in a swamp near here after an eight-day search, confessed to Sheriff Siewert today that she attacked her stepmother, Mrs. Anna Lawando, on the night of July 10, beating her over the head with a club.

The girl, according to the sheriff, said she had "trouble" with Mrs. Lawando.

Miss Lawando is in a hospital here in a serious condition from emaciation and bites of insects suffered in the swamp.

A ruse resulted in her apprehension. Fifteen-year-old Frances Werwinsk took several sandwiches to the marshy swamp where deputies were in hiding, and placed them on a stump, calling for Mary. When the girl came through the tangled underbrush to get the food, the officers gave chase and caught her when she jumped into a heavy bog.

Miss Lawando told the officers she had not eaten and had slept but little since her disappearance, while posses were searching the virgin wilderness of the swamp. Her familiarity with the place enabled her to elude pursuers, deputies said.

The young woman disappeared the day before her stepmother, Mrs. Anna Lawando, was beaten over the head with an axe while she slept in her home.

Rumors are afloat that the large companies are considering a plan to fix a price so low that the independents cannot meet it.

Breed. He charges she had another husband living when he married her in Portsmouth, N. H., in June, 1918.

Mrs. Christy is now living at Salisbury Beach.

One night three months ago, when Christy was supposed to be out of the State, a car drove up to the Monomack and from it two men and two women, all in jovial spirits, entered the Inn. There followed a rumpus with crashing of glass and upturning of furniture. The quartet made a hurried exit. On the steps seeing them off and telling one woman never to return was Christy and he has not lived with Mrs. Christy since that time, it is reported.

POLICEMAN RESCUES NEGRO FROM HANDS OF LYNCH MOB

New York, July 19.—While an infuriated mob looked along Seventh avenue near Thirty-seventh street, for a lamp-post on which to lynch James Gullatte, a negro porter, a policeman battled his way to the prisoner's rescue and locked him in a garage for safekeeping.

The negro was charged with attempting to attack an eleven-year-old white girl whom he had dragged into a dark doorway.

A crowd of screaming women and shouting men attacked him. He was kicked and beaten, and with a clothesline tied in a hangman's knot about his neck, was being led on a search for a stringing-up place, when the patrolman charged with gun and night stick.

RARE ETCHINGS LOST IN BEACON HILL FIRE

Florentine etchings and antiques regarded as priceless were destroyed by fire today at the home of Colonel Edward H. Eldridge, No. 44 Chestnut street, Beacon Hill.

Mrs. Eldridge, who is a descendant of the Di Medici family of Florence, recently returned from the Italian city with much of the art objects and etchings that were destroyed.

These include forty etchings in the period of the 14th century, covered with Florentine colored glass of rare quality, copies of etchings of the pre-Raphael period, a 14th century Venetian chest and numerous other items.

Marie du Mortier, a maid, in an effort to reach the basement where the etchings and antiques were stored, fell down a flight of steps and sprained her ankle.

Colonel Eldridge was out of town and his wife, with the servants, were aroused by the sound of crashing glass, caused by John Nickerson, a watchman, who saw smoke coming from the basement and tried to get in.

He turned in an alarm. Mrs. Eldridge and the servants remained in the house while the firemen were putting out the blaze, which was confined to the basement. The cause of the fire has not been established

ALDERMEN VOTE HEARING FOR CHIEF HAYES

The Beverly aldermen after considering and discussing the thirteen charges in eight complaints lodged by various citizens of Beverly and Salem against Chief of Police "Lightning Jack" Hayes and members of his force, voted to hold a hearing August 13 in connection with the charges.

It was also voted to send typewritten copies of the charges preferred to Chief Hayes and the others accused.

Fred A. Tindley, newspaper man, charged Chief Hayes failed to return certain property after he was declared sane and released from the Danvers Insane Asylum.

Arthur C. Lachances alleged he was held up by the chief and two police officers at the Beverly-Salem bridge and needlessly questioned.

Fred A. Tindley accused Patrolman Harold Miley of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Isaac Wyman Hallac of Salem, accused Chief Hayes of treating him brutally and assaulting him without justification.

Frank A. Carter of Salem accused Patrolman Harold Miley of assaulting him and using profane language when he was a prisoner.

Luigi Oraci of Beverly accused Chief Hayes of giving him $25 on promise that he would not prosecute John E. Palma on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences and impersonating a lawyer.

Seven other, less serious, charges concluded the list.

HUNT MISSING SOLDIER AT DEVENS

Camp Devens, July 19.—Private George C. Harris, thirty years old, Company C, 104th Infantry, disappeared while on an overnight hike with his company. Searching parties composed of hundreds of guardsmen are combing the fields and dense woods in the Hobson Field area of the town of Harvard, where Harris was last seen. Autos with army searchlights are aiding in the hunt.

Harris' absence was not discovered until rollcall after the hike. Officers believe he may have been prostrated by the heat. Others think he might possibly have walked in the direction of the artillery range and was hit by a shell.

A combined infantry and artillery attack was directed by airplanes for the first time in the manoeuvers at Camp Devens.

Throughout the attack of the 3,000 infantrymen and several batteries of artillery, airplanes hovered over the advancing troops and directed their gunfire by wireless telephone.

Officers studying maps after the sham battle declared it a tactical victory for the Yankee Division.

General Barnum, addressing the New England Mayors who visited the camp, called for co-operation in the national preparedness program.

Mayor Curley, representing Boston, declared himself strongly in favor of military training and permanent retention of the National planning board to care for military

EX-TOWN CLERK PLACED ON TRIAL

Greenfield, July 19.—Trial of the case in Superior Court of the town of Northfield against Warren J. Wright, former town clerk and treasurer, has been begun. With it is being tried the case of the town of Northfield against the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company that furnished a bond for Mr. Wright for several years up to his resignation as treasurer in March, 1922, after it was known that he was short in his accounts. The town of Northfield claims Mr. Wright owes it $17,454, and that the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance Company owes it $12,000.

The defendant sets up the general denial and attempts to prove that the alleged shortage does not exist.

AUTO MISHAPS DELAY BRIDE ON WAY TO CHURCH

A series of minor automobile accidents kept Walter R. Montfort of Hartford City, Ind., and 150 wedding guests waiting for more than an hour at St. Mark's Methodist Episcopal Church, Brookline, for the arrival of Miss Annie Maud Nichols of Quincy, the bride.

When word first reached the church that Miss Nichols was delayed by automobile engine trouble, a second car was sent to take her to the church. A blow-out rendered the second car hors de combat for the time being, and the bride arrived in a taxicab, nervous and worried.

Four minutes after her arrival, the wedding march began. The Rev. Thomas C. Martin of East Longmeadow, assisted by the Rev. Elmer A. Leslie of Boston University performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Montfort, the daughter of John J. Nichols, No. 16 State street, Quincy, was night superintendent at the New England Deaconess Hospital. During the war she served overseas as a nurse with Base Hospital No. 51, at Toul, France.

Montfort, a landscape gardener, and a graduate of the Michigan Agricultural College, served overseas in the war as an ambulance driver with Ambulance Company No. 1. He met his bride at Toul.

RED TAPE CUT IN VETERANS' BUREAU

Washington, July 19.—Red tape in all field hospital activities of the United States Veterans' Bureau is to be eliminated through the institution of a definite budget plan, it was made known by General Frank T. Hines, director.

Gen. F. T. Hines.

Heretofore, managers of Bureau hospital districts had to requisition any improvements for the hospitals, or consult the central office before new equipment could be installed, Director Hines said. Under the new scheme heads of districts will be permitted to act and report to the Bureau afterwards, he explained.

Director Hines said it is the first attempt made by any Government department to introduce the budgeting plan for field operations.

Another important development made known by Director Hines is the situation at the Tuskegee, Ala., hospital for colored veterans. The policy of the Bureau appears adverse to the wishes of President Harding in regard to the problem at Tuskegee, as it was intimated that white physicians already at the hospital will be retined.

WARRANT FOR WHISKEY TAX COLLECTION

Charles M. Dean, U. S. Internal Revenue Collector in Cincinnati, Ohio, forwarded district warrant papers to Federal officials in Boston in an effort to collect $4,500 beverage tax from Edward M. Langley of Boston for a large shipment of whiskey.

The liquor, according to the Ohio authorities, was released from the Lynchburg, Freiburg & Workum warehouse under a Federal permit obtained in the usual manner, and was destined for a fashionable gentlemen's club near London, England.

Ohio authorities declare the liquor was stolen in transit at Baltimore, Md., then [illegible] under orders of Langley. The beverage tax would not be applicable, they stated, if the whiskey had actually left American shores.

The liquor was withdrawn from the Ohio warehouses in March when Langley visited Cincinnati.

FOOD QUERY DEPARTMENT
YOUR FOOD PURCHASING DIFFICULTIES SOLVED
— A THURSDAY FEATURE —

Are you at a loss as to where you can secure some particular brand or kind of foodstuffs? If so, write the Boston American Food Query Editor. We will answer your inquiry in these columns as quickly as possible.

Food Query Editor:

Will you kindly tell me where I can purchase "Snider's Salad Dressing." Cannot get it in my home town at the present time. Thanking you

F. B. L.,

East Boston, Mass.

We have tried numerous retail stores to try and locate one that handled Snider's Salad Dressing, but met with no success. We took the matter up with the manufacturers and they tell us that they have temporarily taken this item off the market. The T. A. Snider Company, however, sent us two bottles of their salad dressing and we would be pleased to give these to you if you will call on the Food Query Editor, Boston American.

Food Query Editor:

Could you tell me if this brand of goods is still on the market. It was the Allvine, Alavine or Alvine. I have forgotten just how it was spelled. We used to get the most delicious blackberries and raspberries put up by them about ten years ago. Hope also you can tell me where I can get the Hatchet Brand Formosa Tea put up in red half-pound packages with Chinese letters all over it. Thanking you in advance, I remain,

MRS. P. S. B.,

Weston, Mass.

We have been unable to locate anybody handling Alvine Brand of canned goods. If, however, should we locate a store handling the above brand, we will make this fact known in a later edition. You can secure Hatchet Brand Formosa Oolong Tea at J. M. Copeland's store, 247 Highland avenue, Somerville, Mass.

Food Query Editor:

Since moving to Boston I have hunted high and low trying to locate a place where I can purchase Oswego Brand of canned vegetables and fruits. These goods are put up in New York State and they are very delicious. I will consider it quite a favor if you could inform me where I could secure same here in Boston.

MRS. W. P. R.

Needham.

You can buy the Oswego brand of canned fruits and vegetables at either Houghton & Dutton Grocery Department or Jake Gilbert, Jr., Company, No. 126 Boylston street.

Food Query Editor:

I would like to know where I could purchase Swansdown Cake Flour. I know that you can secure Swansdown Bread Flour at S. S. Pierce Company, but this is the cake flour that I am looking for. Thanking you, I beg to remain,

V. L. B.

Brookline.

You can secure both the Swansdown Cake Flour and the Swansdown Bread Flour in any of the S. S. Pierce Stores or Cobb, Bates & Yerxa Stores. The Swansdown Bread Flour is controlled by the S. S. Pierce Co. The Swansdown Cake Flour is manufactured by an entirely different concern.

Food Query Editor:

Will you kindly tell me where I could get "R-Own" Mayonnaise Dressing. Thank you.

MRS. C. A. B.,

Fort Warren, Mass.

We find that R-Own Brand of Mayonnaise, formerly manufactured by a man named Keith, but is now out of business. We, however, know of several very dependable brands on this market, such as Horace, put up by the Arthur F. Dorr Co., [illegible] and Gold Medal.

Food Query Editor:

We have just moved here from Baltimore and I was told by a friend of mine, a lady that lived in Boston a number of years to be sure and buy the Red Label Brand of canned goods, as I was sure to find them of the very finest quality. She might have told me the store to secure this line of goods at but I must have forgotten since. I have noticed your column and thought perhaps you could help me out in this matter. Thanking you for whatever information you can give me, I beg to remain.

MRS. D. C. C.,

Newton Centre.

Red Label Brand of canned goods is controlled by the S. S. Pierce Co., and you can secure these goods at any of their stores.

2 WOMEN BURNED BY SPILLED GREASE

Miss Julia Cronin, thirty years old, and Mrs. Ellen Donahue, twenty-nine years old, both of No. 1382 Dorchester avenue, Dorchester, are under treatment at the City Hospital for serious burns to their feet suffered when a pot of boiling grease spilled over in the kitchen of their home.

KIDNAPED HEIR TO FIGURE IN COURT BATTLE

Stamford, Ct., July 19.—A bitter legal fight over the possession of [illegible] San Martin, five-year-old son of Dorothy Mannors, an actress who has been stopping at the Hotel [illegible] street, New York, is in preparation. She made her last professional appearance on the stage in "The Last Warning."

The boy, it is said, was forcibly taken from the home provided by a wealthy woman, who had arranged to adopt him at the mother's request.

It is now intimated that the boy, who is the son by a common law marriage of the actress and a man said to be of wealthy connections in Milwaukee, will have a claim on a large estate and that is one of the motives for the kidnaping.

Arrayed in opposition to the boy's mother is the family of Maj. Gen. Francis Kernan, U. S. A., retired, from whose home he was taken and Mrs. Kate Van Murray of West 87th street, New York city, the wife of a prominent New York clergyman, who had arranged to adopt him.

94 FLEE FROM FIRE IN LAWRENCE TENEMENTS

Lawrence, July 19.—More than forty children were among the 94 persons who fled for their lives in a 12-tenement brick fire at No. 81-83 Lowell street. The fire started in one of the lower tenements of the block and worked upwards quickly. The block was owned by Anthony Tolesco and all the tenements were occupied at the time of the fire. Furniture and belongings were hurled to the street by some of the women. Fire officials investigating the blaze found the cause to be a gas explosion occasioned by a lighted match.

THIRD MOVIE MASHER IN PROVIDENCE SENT TO JAIL

Providence, R. I., July 19.—A moving picture theatre "masher," the second arrested in three days, was caught in a local movie house by Patrolman W. L. Wyatt, who was in plain clothes. The man, who gave his name as Gabrel Mendes, 32, a Portuguese of No. 363 Weybosset street, began to cry when he was apprehended and said he fell asleep and did not know what he had been doing. The "masher" was booked on a charge of annoying Stella M. Somantang, and in the Sixth District Court he was sentenced to 30 days in the Providence County Jail.

MOTHER-IN-LAW CRUEL, SAYS WIFE, GIVEN DIVORCE

Fitchburg, July 19.—Cruel and abusive treatment by her mother-in-law was charged by Mrs. Mildred B. Reinhold at her divorce hearing in Probate Court, which resulted in her receiving a decree nisi from her husband, Carl Reinhold, on the grounds of desertion. Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Reinhold, testified, struck her and choked her, and her husband made no effort to stop it. The abuse and threats so affected her health, she declared, that she was confined to bed in a sanitarium. The decree allowed her to resume her maiden name, Mildred R. Barnes.

IMPOSTER OF NEWPORT IS BELL-HOP

Chicago, July 19.—Otto N. Hartman, the boy who has been disporting in Newport society as an uninvited guest at a dinner given by Commodore and Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James on their yacht to the Yale-Harvard tennis team that played the Oxford-Cambridge team at the Newport Casino recently, is a Chicago "bell hop."

He is not yet eighteen, but is tall and athletic. He looked like a "prince in any suit of clothes he ever put on," his sister, Julia Cisco, said. Otto was a student in the Culver Military Academy for a brief time last year. Then he became a bell boy.

"Otto ran away six weeks ago," sobbed his foster mother, Mrs. Emma Hartman, who has cared for him since he was left with her by his mother, seventeen years ago. "He didn't like to stay out here with us. He wanted to be out late at night and be in town. He went to New York. Then we heard that he was in Newport."

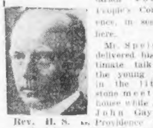
HUB CLERGYMAN WOULD LET LOVERS HOLD HANDS IN CHURCH

MODERN DANCERS SCORNED BY KING'S CHAPEL PASTOR

Star Island, N. H., July 19.—The Rev. Harold E. B. Speight of King's Chapel, Boston, does not object to lovers holding hands—even during a church service.



Rev. H. S. Speight

That, in substance, is what he told a group of young men at the Unitarian Young People's Conference, in session here.

Mr. Speight delivered his intimate talk to the young men in the little stone meeting house while Mrs. John Gay of Providence was giving a similar talk before the girls of the Oceanic Hotel. Endeavoring to describe ideal love, Mr. Speight told his hearers that a man and woman have attained something of this ideal when they exchange stories of their childhood and tell one another of their parents.

The ideal lovers share all their experiences, and when they are in this happy state it is not objectionable for them to hold hands even during a church service. This is but a means of expressing to one another the thrill that religious worship together brings to them.

"Inconstancy before marriage," Mr. Speight stated, "takes the edge off married life and for many years the burden of happiness, when finally married, must fall on one member alone."

RAPS FLIRTATIONS.

Flirtations, even though apparently innocent, he characterized as "impersonal" and explained that like scars they detract from the full beauty and destroy the potentiality for full and sincere expression of love and affection when the real girl comes.

Mr. Speight expressed the hope that the day would come when the dance of today, with the indiscriminate contact of the bodies of man and woman, would soon disappear. "Distressful results are produced which are more harmful to men than to women," he declared.

$25,000 WORTH OF ALCOHOL SEIZED

Federal prohibition agents seized 100 barrels of alcohol in a freight car in the Boston & Maine yards, near Warren bridge, Charlestown.

The alcohol valued at $25,000, was shipped from Weehawken, N. J., in sugar barrels and was consigned to the "Herman Grocery Co., No. 100 Richmond street, Boston." There is no such firm at No. 100 Richmond street.

The building at that address is owned by the G. Zuffante Company and occupied in part by them. The rest of the building is leased by the National Chemical Supply Company. Mr. Zuffante said that he knew nothing of the shipment.

Prohibition agents stood guard over the sugar barrels during the night waiting for the owner to call for them.

GIRL AGAINST HER SISTER IN DIVORCE SUIT

Buffalo, N. Y., July 19.—Sister was obliged to testify against sister at a hearing in the divorce court here of the action brought by James A. Purvis, formerly of Boston, against his wife, Ruth.

Mary Sims, who declared she is a half-sister to Mrs. Purvis, testified that the latter once pointed out to her a man in the orchestra of the Palais Royal Theatre, declaring he was her "sweetie."

At the time hearing Paul Bossi, dining room captain in the Hotel Buffalo, identified a picture of Mrs. Purvis and said he had served dinner to her and a Mr. Whalen in a room in that hotel last April, where, he testified, they were registered as Mr. and Mrs. Whalen.

Mrs. Sims declared Mrs. Purvis had lived at her home, No. 907 Michigan street, but had left April 14. Later, Mrs. Sims declared, she visited Mrs. Purvis at the hotel.

DANCE MARATHON TO HYMNS OF SALLIES AT OLD ORCHARD

Old Orchard Beach, July 19.—The marathon dancing craze reached Old Orchard when an endurance dancing contest took place on a raised platform on the beach, near the steel pier, under the supervision of the Old Orchard Board of Trade, which offered $20 in gold for the couple who danced till midnight. The contest began at 6:30 p. m. Four couples entered. A boy and girl, of about 12, were stopped at 10 o'clock and got $5. The other three couples were apparently as fresh as when they began at midnight and the $45 was divided among them. At 8 o'clock the Salvation Army Corps of Saco arrived and, within a few feet of the platform where the dancers were tripping over the rough boards, sang hymns.

MALDEN DOCTOR SAYS CHLORINE GAS WILL NOT KILL 'FLU' GERM

IRRITANT OF GRAVE DANGER

Oxygen, Real Effective Agent in Recent Tests, Says Dr. Leavitt

It was the oxygen—not the chlorine—in the gas inhaled by the students of the University of Arkansas that warded off influenza.

The finding made recently by the American Chemical Society that inhalations of chlorine and oxygen among a large body of students decreased the cases of 'flu from 133 per thousand to 44 per thousand, is due to the properties of the oxygen alone, according to Dr. Thomas W. Leavitt, of Malden, an expert in respiratory diseases.

The statement of the American Chemical Society concluded with a recital of the possibilities of treatment with chlorine and other gases in respiratory diseases.

OXYGEN EFFECTIVE.

"It was the oxygen in the gas inhaled by these men that prevented influenza," declares Dr. Leavitt. "Apparently, the chemical society concluded that the chlorine was the effective agent, but that is not so. It was the oxygen. As for the chlorine, the only reason they failed to get harmful results was because they used it in such minute quantities.

"Only a small quantity of chlorine was used in this preparation. It didn't do any harm, but the oxygen did the trick. There are highly disinfectant qualities in chlorine, to be sure, but its other disadvantages render it entirely unsuitable for inhalation.

POWERFUL STIMULANT.

"Chlorine is a powerful local stimulant and a violent irritant. Even when inhaled in small quantities, it produces extreme irritation of the mucous membrane, followed by coughing, sneezing, spasm of the glottis and possible inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages and the lungs.

"It is these harmful properties which make chlorine dangerous even though it is disinfectant. It stands to reason that anything which would produce such results upon the sensitive mucous membrane would hardly be an effective curative agent.

OPPOSED TO CHLORINE.

"Of course, chlorine would liberate oxygen as soon as it came in contact with the hydrogen in air and this oxygen would be beneficial. But why not inhale oxygen gas alone? Then you'd have your oxygen without any of the harmful results of chlorine.

"Bacteria cannot live in oxygen, and if you give one a daily inhalation of oxygen, of course, they're not going to get 'flu or tuberculosis or any other disease of the kind. But why bother with chlorine?"

GREAT RUM CAMPS FEED NEW ENGLAND

Newport, R. I., July 19.—Declaring that great camps are being maintained at St. Pierre and other points on Miquelon, from which liquor is being smuggled into New England, E. B. Nickerson of Nova Scotia, most worthy patriarch of the National Sons of Temperance, now sitting here, created a sensation. He was presenting his annual report.

He added that the organization should do its best to see that these camps were exterminated so that the National Sons of Temperance could better hold up the hand of the Federal Government of the United States in its work of prohibition.

SEEK GUNMAN HERE AS N. Y. MURDERER

Celestino Ardolino, notorious gunman, who has served terms in Charlestown State Prison and Sing Sing for several attempted murders, is being sought in Greater Boston for the murder of a fellow countryman in New York two months ago. Ardolino, the police declare, was seen in Boston several weeks ago. It is believed he is being sheltered by friends here. The search is being especially concentrated on Revere, Beverly and Boston proper. Ardolino is described by police as a "bad man and a menace to society."

HOOD'S OUTING PEP DEVELOPED UPON MILK

There was a time when no picnic was complete without an abundance of wet goods of a potency of at least 1½ per cent. alcohol. At the annual picnic and outing of the H. P. Hood & Sons Mutual Benefit Association it was demonstrated that high-powered hilarity can be developed on nothing stronger than milk.

The thousand members of the association and their families found a blazing sun when they arrived at Norumbega Park, but to offset that they found several Hood trucks loaded with Hood's milk. For the smaller members of the various groups there were ice cream cones filled with Hood's ice cream. There were free peanuts for the very young ones, free carousel rides, field sports and a variety of other sports.

The most interesting of the athletic events, with the possible exception of the baseball game between teams from the Charlestown and Dorchester branches, was the milk bottle obstacle race. In this race the runners started at home base with a milk-carrier loaded with filled bottles. On each base were a number of empty bottles. The trick was to run from base to base, unload the filled bottles and pick up the empties.

Then there was the obstacle race for girls, the three-legged race, jumping matches, all sorts of other games, with the nearby carousels furnishing music.

Proceeds of the outing are to go to the general fund of the Mutual Benefit Association, of which the following are officers: E. J. Pine, president; H. E. Welden, vice-president; H. C. Harlow, executive committeeman.

J. W. Egan, of the Charlestown branch, was the man who arranged the program of sports. Later there were visits to the zoo, rides in the caterpiller and other thrilling vehicles and dancing.

But undoubtedly the big feature of the outing was the milk—hundreds of bottles of clear, sparkling milk.

Marathon dances are all the rage here. In Parliament a deputy asked Premier Mussolini whether it was "compatible with national dignity to permit dancing contests which offer a debasing spectacle."

Premier Mussolini announced he would make a written reply.

My associates in the Moxie bottle department report to me that we are in the greatest need of Three Hundred Thousand (300,000) cases of Moxie Empties in order to keep Moxieland humming, which we must do to take care of the enormous demand for Moxie. As it would require Three Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty (3,750) one-ton trucks to haul these bottles, we appreciate that we are asking you for quite some effort. However, you have never failed us, and we are sure you will not now.

The orders for Moxie are so great that we are obliged to apportion our daily output as equitably as possible.

If there is any delay in delivering Moxie we regret it exceedingly, but assure you that we are bending every energy to keep you supplied.

We thank you in advance for your co-operation in returning Moxie Empties.

GRAFT CHARGED IN PERMIT GRANTED DORCHESTER GARAGE

300 PROTEST TO CITY COUNCIL

Street Commissioners Targets for Criticism by Those Opposing Structure

Charges of crooked dealings and graft in connection with the granting of a permit for the construction of a public garage at Nos. 8-10 Harvard street, Dorchester, were hurled against city officials by over 300 petitioners, who appeared before the City Council in protest against the proposed garage.

The members of the council expressed their sympathy for the residents but declared they were powerless to act.

The garage had been one-quarter completed without the formality of securing a building permit, the petitioners charged. Then, after three applications for a permit had been rejected, they charged, it was suddenly mysteriously granted.

The street commissioners were the targets for a great deal of criticism on the part of petitioners, for their action in granting the permit.

HEARS OF GRAFT.

William L. Calahan, one of the heaviest property owners of the section, charged he had heard of money being passed in connection with the granting of the permit.

William A. Davidson, another abutter, declared he marvelled that petitions for smaller garages in the neighborhood had been rejected, while the one in question is permitted.

Nearly all the abutters were called upon to give their views. Among these were Mary Collins of No. 35 Barry street, Mrs. Mary Edelbutt of No. 43 Washingtton street and Miss Mary V. Ridge of 15-17 Gaylord street.

Miss Collins claimed the garage builders knocked down the fences around her property. Miss Ridge said she was unable to get tenants for her house when they discovered that the garage adjoined.

INJUNCTION HOLDS.

Mrs. Edelbutt urged all the petitioners to stand firm because the court injunction which they secured last year against the storing of automobiles or gasoline at Nos. 8-10 Harvard sreeet, still held good. All of them expressed fear for the lives of school children in the district.

The meeting closed with a speech from the chair by Councillor Hagan. He explained that the Council was powerless until some relief was offered by the courts.

"It's the most damnable outrage, I think," he said, "that has taken place in my career as public citizen. The permit was passed over your heads and over that of the City Council. It is an insult to the council."

OIL WAR PLANNED BY HUGO STINNES

London, July 19. — The Daily Sketch's Berlin correspondent says Hugo Stinnes, German industrial king, has been in Copenhagen for several days preparing for an oil war with the Danish-American Petroleum Company. Stinnes, the dispatch says, has been buying large properties in the suburbs of Copenhagen and has also lowered the prices on trips to America from Hamburg in Stinnes vessels.

JOHNSON VICTORY WARNING TO HARDING, SAYS HYLAN

New York, July 19.—The victory of Magnus Johnson, the Farmer-Labor Party's newly elected Senator from Minnesota, has given "official Washington an inkling of the temper of the people, which bids fair to sweep the existing regime into the political discard," says a message of congratulation sent by Mayor John F. Hylan to the Minnesotan and made public today.

"Heartiest congratulations on your election to the United States Senate," says the telegram . . . "The administration is paying for its fine promises to the farmer which did not square with such oppressive measures as the Fordney-McCumber tariff. It will pay for its wobbly international policy, especially if it binds the American nation in a political alliance such as the World Court."

EDNA MILLAY WEDS HASTILY, THEN RUSHED TO HOSPITAL

New York, July 19.—Edna St. Vincent Millay, poet, who on her sickbed yesterday forsook her oft-repeated determination never to wed and became the bride of Eugen Boissevain, wealthy Dutch importer, today was in New York Hospital, awaiting an operation for appendicitis.

The wedding, which came as a surprise, took place at Groton-on-Hudson with only a handful of friends present. It was decided upon hurriedly when it became apparent that Miss Millay would have to undergo an operation.

Mr. Boissevain's first wife was Inez Milholland, famous suffragist, who died in 1916, worn out by her strenuous fight for women's rights.

'EL' PAYS STATE $1,000,000; BOSTON'S SHARE $700,000

The Boston Elevated Railway today paid over to the Commonwealth more than $1,000,000 in part liquidation of the $4,000,000 loan obtained in the first year of public operation from cities and towns served by the road.

This was the second payment on account.

A year ago the Elevated paid $517,196.

While the road's check goes to the State Treasurer, the money is to be distributed among the cities and towns lying within the company's system in proportion to their contribution to the forced loan. The city of Boston gets more than 70 per cent. of the whole.

TURKS TO DEPORT RUSSIANS; FUGITIVES FEAR EXECUTION

Constantinople, July 19 (I.N.S.)—Turkish authorities today announced Russians would not be permitted to remain in Constantinople and that those seeking to stay here would be deported.

The majority of Russians in Turkey are fugitives who fled the Bolshevist revolution. When General Wrangel's campaign against the Soviet Government broke down in Crimea the remnants of his white army fled to Turkey. Some of Admiral Kolchak's white forces also took refuge here. All are penniless and fear execution if forced to return to Russia.

TRAVEL 10,000 MILES TO JOIN FATHER IN U. S.

After travelling more than 10,000 miles from Johannesburg, British South Africa, to meet their father in Munroe City, Michigan, three immigrant children were threatened with deportation when they arrived in Boston and it was found the immigrant quota from their section had been exhausted.

They were finally allowed to proceed to their father through the intervention of the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, which appealed to the authorities at Washington, D. C.

The children are Bernard, Regina and Rosa Weiss, aged 17, 10 and 7, respectively. With them came their aunt and her four children. The latter are still detained at East Boston detention wharf, awaiting deportation.

The party left Johnnesburg, British South Africa, January 17, arriving in London, February 5. There they were obliged to retrace their steps as far as Czecho Slovakia, when it was found they had failed to comply with a small technicality in their passports. When they finally arrived in this country on the Adriatic, July 11, it was only to encounter another barrier. This, thanks to Abraham Alpert, editor of the Boston Jewish American and of the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society, was soon removed.

Bernard has made the trip from Johnnesburg to Europe three times. He will take up salesmanship here. Little Rosa expressed the ambition to become a movie actress.

Forgets Fee, Man Is Refused License to Marry

Brockton, July 19.—The adage, "Experience is a great teacher," does not apply to the wedding preparations of Alexander Hargrove and Mrs. Sarah D. George.

The former appeared at the office of City Clerk Sullivan on Tuesday and applied for a marriage application, but as he had forgotten the name of his prospective mate he had to return home without the document.

Later, he reappeared, bringing with him the bride-elect, but this time he lacked the $1 fee necessary to obtain the application and another trip was necessary.

Manila.—The Philippine Independence Commission decided today to send Manuel Quezon, veteran political leader and president of the Senate, to the United States to carry their protest against Governor-General Wood to President Harding.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TOWNS ARM TO FIGHT BANDITS

Rochester, N. H., July 19.—Citizens are arming to prevent further depredations of robbers following ten robberies in twenty-four hours in Union and Farmington.

The whole section is terrorized at the activity of the gang which is believed to travel in an auto with a Massachusetts license.

The robbers swept down on Union and broke into six places—the B. & M. Railroad station, the postoffice, a garage, a blacksmith shop, a barber shop and a marble shop. The night before four places at Farmington we, e entered.

At Milton an armed guard was stationed near the postoffice, with orders to shoot any persons acting in a suspicious manner near the building. Postmasters and station agents in other places made hurried trips to Rochester and deposited their surplus cash in banks.

BROCKTON POLICE ARREST 2 STRIKE PARADE LEADERS

Brockton, July 19. — Some 100 striking shoe workers, marching towards Campella factories in column of twos, was stopped by police and dispersed. Richard C. Clifford, former business agent of the Edgemakers, and Paul Gluckman, leaders, were charged with disturbance and intimidation. Oscar Peterson, prominent real estate man and former councilman, criticised the police for their action. He was arrested, the police say, because he did not have his auto license with him in his car.

WATERBURY HOTEL BURNS; ONE MAN REPORTED DEAD

Waterbury, Conn., July 19—Every available piece of apparatus in the city was called out for a three alarm fire in Hodson's Hotel in Exchange place, center of the business and mercantile district of the city. Several persons were removed, overcome by smoke.

The body of an unidentified man was found in a room on the top floor. It is supposed that he was burned to death.

George Gagner of Medford, Mass., who has only one leg, was unable to get through flames when the calls of fire penetrated the halls. He reached a window and called for help. Two men rushed into the building and carried him to the street.

WOMEN CHAMPIONS FLAY DR. McKENZIE FOR 'KNOCK KNEE' CHARGE

ATHLETIC STARS IN PROTEST

"Flat Chest" Charge Is All Wrong; Better if "Bookworms" Exercised

New York, July 19 (INS).—Champion women golfers, tennis players, and swimmers today answered with vehemence Dr. McKenzie's charge that "indulgence in athletics was making the American woman flat chested and knock-kneed."

The noted sculptor and author should be made to "take back his slander," the women champions agreed.

Miss Alexa Stirling, Metropolitan golf champion:

"Dr. McKenzie must be blind. The knees and chests of American women are not hidden secrets—any more."

Helen Wainwright, Olympic swimming champion and New York's prettiest bathing girl:

"How does he get that way?"

Miss Wainwright's one-piece bathing suit proves Dr. McKenzie is mistaken in one instance at least.

CURED BY ATHLETICS.

Helen Wills, Californian, now at the West Side Tennis Club Forest Hills, national girls' singles champion:

"The athletic girl is better developed than her book-reading, retiring sister of the age in which I feel sure Dr. McKenzie must live. I haven't noticed either flat chests or knock-knees on any of the tennis courts on which I have played."

"I had curvature of the spine before I took up athletics," Miss Ethelda Bliebtrey, winner of the lion's share of the last Olympic's swimming events, said. "Indulgence in athletics has made me perfectly sound."

"I was a little thing—the kind the wind blows away—until I took up athletics," Miss Eileen Regan, Brooklyn, another Olympic champion, declared.

Miss Regan is considered the "best formed girl" appearing at the Madison Square Garden pool.

CHALLENGES THE DOCTOR.

"Now I'm 57 years old and I've been a golfer for many years, and I have not a flat chest, or crooked legs, and I'll outwalk Dr. McKenzie any day," Mrs. Edward F. Sanford, Women's Metropolitan Golf Association Secretary and runner-up in many Metropolitan tournaments said.

"I wonder can Dr. McKenzie play 36 holes of golf," Mrs. Caleb Fox, noted figure in women's golf tournaments for 20 years, who describes herself as "being as old as Mrs. Sanford," asked. "I can, because I have kept fit with athletics, just as every woman should do."

"Can a mere man say a word," asked Earl Carroll, musical comedy producer, managing Peggy Hopkins Joyce's appearance on Broadway, surrounded by what the Whiteway claims to be "the prettiest bunch of show girls in town."

"The athletic girl has neither knock-knees nor is she flat-chested. She's better developed and more beautiful, as a rule than her non-athletic sister. Every girl should be an athlete."

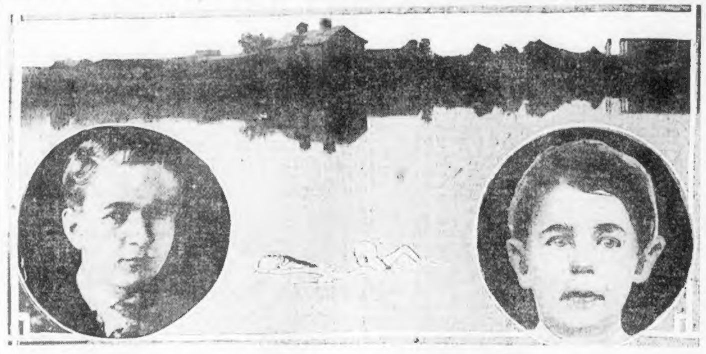
WHERE SLAIN BOY'S BODY WAS FOUND



FIGURES IN MURDER MYSTERY WHICH HAS STIRRED RHODE ISLAND

At bottom, diagram showing how William Lane swam out into Randall's Pond, Cranston, R. I., and brought to shore the mutilated body of little Vincenzo Picano. Left lower corner, William Lane, boy who discovered body; right lower corner, Vincenzo Picano, victim of brutal slayer.

MISSING RAZOR CLEW IN R. I. BOY MURDER

Providence, July 19 (I. N. S.)—Dr. Randall H. Harrington, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, from which Frank Weeden, a dangerous lunatic, escaped last Monday, announced today a safety razor in one of the hospital offices has been missing since Weeden's escape.

The police say such a weapon may have been used to disfigure the body of seven-year-old Vincenzo Picano, which was found horribly mutilated in Randall's Pond, Knightsville, late Tuesday night.

A woman of mystery who saw the boy being led into a vineyard on a hillside overlooking Randall's Pond, holds the key, police believe, to the brutal murder.

Chief Cuff

"I saw a little boy of your brother's age drop his milk bottle tray and go into the vineyard with a stranger with a cloth on his face," she told Philip Picano, eleven, who met her at the spot where the abandoned tray was found.

The empty milk bottle tray was found at Topeka and Larkin avenues, where Vincenzo had dropped it, by two boys, Venio Roceno and Albert Storti.

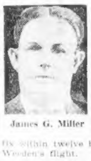
IDENTITY UNKNOWN.

The woman's identity is not yet established. She was dressed mostly in white, Philip said, was slim and said she lived in Cranston.

Her reported story again makes Frank Weeden the murder suspect. Weeden, an escaped maniac, wears a black cloth patch over his right eye.

This suspect slipped through the fingers of police of Warwick, R. I., because Chief Henry Rickett did not have a man to send after him.

Authorities of the State Insane Hospital have made little effort to find Weeden. They reported his disappearance twenty-four hours after discovering it, Cranston police said. They could not tell whether a razor is missing at the hospital, nor could they fix within twelve hours the time of Weeden's flight.



James G. Miller

DROP HUNT FOR CLUES.

Chief of Police Cuff and Inspector James Miller of Cranston, where the body was found, searched the vineyard, which covers forty-eight acres and is the largest in the state, for clues, but gave up when Vincent Ribondi said he was working there the day the lad disappeared and saw no one pass through. Later, however, he said he did not start work there until after eight-thirty.

The murdered lad dropped from sight shortly after 8 in the morning, at which hour he left home to collect empty milk bottles for Antonio Soscia, his step-father. He did not reach the first house on his route.

The Red Cross officials have promised more nurses next trip. Many of our guests have plenty of reason to be thankful for their presence on trips this year. This newspaper is very grateful to Mrs. Anna R. Ross and her efficient assistants.

Every child and mother will be glad to know that:

H. P. HOOD & SONS COMPANY will be on deck with their usual generous contribution of Pasteurized Milk and "Sweethearts."

MOXIE'S DADDY, the amiable Frank Archer, has promised to repeat with his candy favors—lollypops.

SAGAMORE BATH HOUSES, with all their well known facilities, will again contribute the free use of lockers to all of the Boston American's guests.

JOHN J. QUEALEY, the "Balloon Man," has again come across, but instead of squawkers will furnish each child with a real pure rubber balloon, manufactured by his famous house, the Pioneer Rubber Co., of Willard, Ohio.

PARAGON PARK, LAST BUT FAR FROM LEAST, fairly outdid itself last trip, and all the kiddies who go down NEXT Tuesday may be sure of a big and hearty welcome at that nationally famous park.

RUSSIANS IN SEA FIGHT WITH JAPS

By Universal Service
Special Cable Dispatch

Berlin, July 19.—Dispatches from Vladivostok to Moscow declare that a Soviet warship captured two Japanese steamers engaged in illicit fishing, after a naval battle in Russian territorial waters. The Japanese craft offered resistance when discovered by the Red cruiser, the reports said, and in the battle that followed three Japs were wounded and one Russian killed before the Japanese surrendered.

At the same time the Moscow papers report the reorganization of the Russian Black Sea fleet. The best elements of the Baltic fleet have been transferred to the Black Sea, where naval defenses are being built with feverish energy anticipating the decision of the Lausanne conference that will open the Dardenelles to the Allies.

ABANDONS 3 CHILDREN IN RUM CHASE

York Village, Me., July 19.—Nathaniel Maccaro, No. 189 Pomona street, Revere, Mass., abandoned his three sons, all under eight years old, in his wife's touring car on the outskirts of this village, rather than face arrest on a liquor charge, the police say.

Fifty gallons of alcohol were found in a false compartment of the gasoline tank. Maccaro was accompanied by his brother Paul, also of Revere.

According to the three boys, Tony, eight years old, Maurice, six years old, and Harry, five years old, their father and uncle left the car and returned to York Village for gasoline. They did not return.

Federal Prohibition Agent Henry Weaver was attracted by the crying of the children. After listening to their story, he inspected the gas tank and found it was empty, and that a false compartment contained about fifty gallons of alcohol. After waiting for more than two hours for the brothers to return, Weaver seized the car and took the children to the town authorities.

Through the oldest of the boys, it was learned they were to visit an aunt, Mrs. Anna Vacchiano, No. 2 Middle street, Portland. Police communicated with the aunt by telephone. She is on her way here by automobile, and will take the children to their home in Revere.

Police of nearby towns are looking for the two men, who according to the children, are without coats. Forest lands in the vicinity are being searched. Weaver said he will swear out a warrant charging the men with conspiracy against the Federal government.

GETS DIVORCE FROM HER FILM ADONIS

Reno, Nev., July 19.—Mrs. Gertrude Kirkwood was granted a divorce from James Kirkwood, motion picture Adonis, when she testified that her handsome spouse made pillows of his broad shoulders for the heads of many fair admirers while riding in his motor car through public thoroughfares.

Mrs. Kirkwood.

Crapshooters Duck Shot and Sit on Red Hot Pipe

Steubenville, O., July 19.—Twelve or thirteen negro laborers who participated in a crap game at the Labelle Iron Works labor camp here, are in the Mill Hospital today, suffering from burns. The dozen ranged along one side of a table while the thirteenth, wielder of the spotted ivory gallopers, faced them on the opposite side of "Lady Luck's" table.

One of the twelve, with a boarding house reach, grabbed for the pot of money in the centre of the table. "Shooter" No. 13 reached for a pistol.

As it flashed, twelve men ducked." All sat on a red hot fuel pipe.

Twelve pairs of trousers were ruined and the owners will take their meals standing for some days.

WOMAN TARGET FOR SHOT SENT THROUGH WALL

Carl Smith, thirty-one years old, No. 200 West Seventh street, South Boston, shot through a wall in his home in an attempt to kill Miss Mary O'Rouke, forty years old, No. 202 West Seventh street, the police say.

He was arrested after an exciting chase over the roofs of a row of houses.

According to the police, Miss O'Rouke rose from a chair where she had been resting to go to another room. As she arose she heard a shot in the adjoining apartment. The bullet grazed the chair where she had been sitting.

Edward J. Carroll, Boston school teacher, a tenant on the second floor, heard the shot, investigated, and notified the police.

Smith was not in his apartment when the police arrived. An opened skylight indicated the route of his flight. Drawing their revolvers, Sergeants Trayers and Eaton of the Athens street station climbed onto the roof as Smith disappeared behind a chimney. They waited behind the skylight. Smith walked into their trap a quarter of an hour later and was arrested.

He was charged with drunkenness and with carrying a concealed weapon. Smith, the police charge, threatened several times Carroll and Miss O'Rouke.

PARENTS FIGHT OVER $50,000 LEFT NURSE

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Crump of Chatham, Ont., parents of Dr. Edward S. Crump, who sacrificed his life while attempting to find a cure for sleeping sickness, have started action to prevent payment of $50,000 life insurance left by their son, to Miss Mary E. Chadwick of Marblehead, Dr. Crump's fiancee.

Dr. Crump and Miss Chadwick, a nurse, were associated in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Boston, and in the Harper Hospital, Detroit.

Dr. Crump devoted the greatest part of his time to the study of sleeping sickness, and finally contracted the disease. Throughout his own illness he continued to make an exhaustive study of the disease, and carefully recorded every developements of it's progress.

He faced death happy in the knowledge that he had contributed to medical science by his studies of sleeping sickness.

Miss Chadwick was Dr. Crump's constant attendant during his illness, and was frequently at his bedside as much as twenty hours at a time. After his death, she suffered a physical and nervous breakdown, and was herself under medical treatment for some time.

BLACK OXEN by Gertrude Atherton
The best selling book in America today

"BLACK OXEN is the most absorbing, most interesting and the most brilliant story I have read in years. I could not put it aside after I had read the first page. Mrs. Atherton has never done anything finer, and I heartily recommend it to all who care for really excellent fiction."
David Warfield

"BLACK OXEN is a tragic, absorbing story of a rejuvenated woman. A youthful body bought from a doctor to match a mind that could never wrinkle. Every woman will be interested to read it."
Laurette Taylor

"In BLACK OXEN Gertrude Atherton has pounced boldly on a theme that we women love to think about and hate to talk about — It's of tremendous interest but corresponding discouragement for us potential 'Shes.' But a glorious book to have written."
Blanche Bates

"GERTRUDE ATHERTON has created in her latest novel, BLACK OXEN, a vivid story, tremendously appealing in its searching, penetrating analysis of modern life. Her people live, and grow and are real and the emotion of romance pervades the book. It has the charm of the past and the fascination of the present."
David Belasco

"It has been quite a number of years since I have been fortunate enough to get hold of a story so worthwhile as Mrs. Atherton's BLACK OXEN. One cannot find anything modern which is better."
George M. Cohan

"Whatever we women may think of BLACK OXEN, I'll wager something handsome we are all going to read it and we're not going to lay it down until we've finished the last page. No idea has ever been more fascinating to poor ephemeral humanity than that by some magic we can cheat the years and relive our youth."
Zelda Sears

"BLACK OXEN is the best novel I have ever read. The basic idea is most original, and Mrs. Atherton's treatment of it fascinating. It is a theme dear to the hearts of all women with implications that impel me to recommend it to all men."
Grace La Rue

"BLACK OXEN is paramount among Gertrude Atherton's long line of splendid achievements. The extraordinary theme is not only adroitly but brilliantly handled, and, to me, is the most interesting and unusual novel I have read in years. It should place the author as America's finest and foremost story teller."

DISTANCE OF STARS

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

IMPROVED values of the trigonometric parallaxes of the brightest stars in the heavens obtained by photography at the Le[illegible]ander M[illegible] have recently been published by Professor Mitchell and his associates. Nothing more impresses the imagination of the average person in looking up at the stars than an authoritative estimate of their distances. The parallax, stated in decimals of a second of arc, and representing the angular magnitude of the semi-axis of the earth's orbit as viewed from the particular star in question, gives no definite idea of the distance except to the astronomer, but when [illegible]

"Sensational novels have not been lacking among the more than twenty volumes of fiction that Mrs. Atherton has given to her multitude of readers. We venture to assert that BLACK OXEN is the most sensational of the lot. The theme is not new in fiction, but you may be sure that Mrs. Atherton handles it as it was never handled before by any writer. It is a theme forever new and forever near to the heart of women. I can well believe that no novel on the Spring list of any publisher will occasion as wide discussion." Boston Herald.

"This experiment in rejuvenation, this terrible struggle between an old mind's love of power and a young mind's need of love, all these tricks of plot and theme are for her, just wheels on which to run her story, and for us, bait to catch our interest, to lure us into the novel. The description is what she writes for, and what the good reader will read for. It is as a social description, done with power that one must praise BLACK OXEN." Buffalo News

"BLACK OXEN as a whole, like most current fiction, is absorbed in sex, but it is a masterly treatment of the theme." N. Y. Sun

"Gertrude Atherton's genius is not essentially self-critical, nevertheless, it is indubitably genius, genius of a higher quality than that possessed by the artist who struggles with words and phrases to achieve his ideal of perfection.

BLACK OXEN may be considered her most brilliant book up to date—once begun it doesn't permit itself to be dropped until finished. It will more firmly seat its author in the unique place she now occupies in our literature."—Carl Van Vechten in N. Y. Nation.

WOMAN'S HEALTH RESTORED

She Claims Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did It After Everything Else Failed

Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could barely do my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I took a lot of medicines and had doctors. Then I gave them all up and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I feel wonderfully good now. I do every thing that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY SAISCHECK, 944 28th St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Letters like these testify to the value of the Vegetable Compound. These women speak from the fullness of their hearts. They describe as correctly as they can their conditions: First, those symptoms that affected them most conspicuously; and later the disappearance of those symptoms. They are sincere expressions of gratitude. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so praised by women.

FLAMING YOUTH ✤ By WARNER FABIAN

The Great Reform Novel of the Year, Baring Innermost Secrets of Luxury-Loving Class

START THIS BIG NEW STORY TODAY

Mona Fen'riss, young, beautiful and the wife of a consulting engineer, has been told by her physician, Bob Osterhout, who is in love with her, that she has only a short time to live. Mona gives a gay party, telling Pat to go to bed, but the latter borrows a sister's dress, steals downstairs and has "a taste of life." Connie goes to a dance at the club and takes too much punch. She is brought home by Fred Browning, with whom she had uneventfully spent the night. Sel Thorpe gives Pat a "real" kiss. Mona dies and Constance receives a call from Cary Scott, her mother's first admirer. Scott is much taken with Pat. A party is planned for the Dangerfields to christen the new swimming pool. A thunder storm puts out the lights and the guests go into the water without clothes. Dee modestly hesitates on the balcony and then the lights came on, revealing her in a blinding glare. One of the bathers is saved from drowning by Cary Scott. Pat and Cary Scott become interested in each other. Pat returns from school and declares she is "out for trouble" this time. Scott and Pat confess their love and Scott, whose wife is living, says good-by to her. Pat pretends to Dr. Osterhout that she is about to have a baby. He asks her to marry him. Then she admits she has tricked him and that it is Dee who wants his aid. Cary Scott comes back and Pat succumbs to him. Dee's husband is badly hurt. Wollaston urges Dee to elope with him.

NOW GO ON WITH THIS ENTHRALLING STORY.

"I WISH I could, Cary. I wish I were sure," she said wistfully. She jumped to her feet. "Tell me good night," she commanded, holding out her arms. "And you're to come early tomorrow [illegible]"

From the way in which she gave up everything [illegible] after Con and her household, I was almost ready to suspect [illegible] out." There was the contention [illegible] of Cary Scott going away so abruptly quite [illegible] way [illegible] subdued and inert. Her devotion to James would explain [illegible]

The next instalment of this great reform novel of the year will appear in tomorrow's Boston American.

BLACK OXEN

The Best-Selling Novel of the Year

Will start in the Boston American next Monday. It is by Gertrude Atherton, America's foremost woman writer. Don't miss it! Tell your friends about it.

"Mrs. Atherton is frank in revelations of the experiences of the 'lady of mystery.' BLACK OXEN presents an interesting study of feminine moods and wiles. Mrs. Atherton is a novelist of experience and her novels have rare vitality." Philadelphia Record

"My prediction is that this novel will interest more women than any novel since Vance Thompson's "Eat and Grow Thin." It is more than likely that its more sensational theme will overshadow its higher merits as an entertaining and well planned novel containing a clever and delicious expose of the feminine mind. I can but suggest that if you are a male and want a jolt for your little complacencies and vanities, read BLACK OXEN. I do not need to suggest that women read it. They will soon enough if they find out that it has to do with the rejuvenization of youth and beauty." Burton Rascoe — N. Y. Tribune

"Is the finest of a long line of brilliant achievements. It will create a new place for Mrs. Atherton and will be discussed everywhere. BLACK OXEN is by far her greatest story, and to me at least, the most absorbing novel by anyone which I have read in a couple of years." Charles Hanson Towne—Bookman

"A novel by Gertrude Atherton is always a literary event. Before it is opened a safe wager can be made that the story will be worth-while. BLACK OXEN is brilliant, with a fine insight. Logical and with a careful eye to reality, the story never loses the keen interest which it possesses from the very start."
—Portland Oregonian

"The conflict of a woman's soul and its influence upon two lovers of diametrically opposed characters, make an absorbing story. There are some superb scenes with moving, dramatic situations, and the amazing gift for color and action with which Mrs. Atherton is endowed, make this a story of intense vitality and magnificent literary attainment."
—Buffalo Courier

"BLACK OXEN is a drama which for psychological penetration and insight into the deeper recesses of woman's nature has rarely, if ever, been equalled in fiction."
Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

LUIS FIRPO DISPLAYS AT BRAVES FIELD TONIGHT

Braves Now in Class All By Themselves

DOWN DEEP IN CELLAR POSITION

By NICK FLATLEY.

Virtue is always triumphant in [illegible] fum[illegible] at Braves Field these evenings. That's why some ten thousand philosophic souls wander up there and have a good time. It's never on top in the afternoon. The villain always wins out and the Braves never lo[illegible]. That's why a thousand or so are present [illegible] ing a heavy time.

Pres. Mathewson.

The Tribe is now in the cellar all by itself. It's the first time this year, incidentally, that the team has done anything to put itself in a class by itself. That's no consolation, though.

Despite our natural disinclination to pile on suffering, we asked President Mathewson and Vice-President Fuchs a few things about their ball club.

* * *

Matty—The team is down, and can lose in more ways than any club I've ever seen. Nothing goes right for us, and nothing goes wrong for the other fellow. It isn't class, or anything else. It's just the bad luck that follows a losing ball club. I've been in the game a long while, and it never fails. A team that has slipped never does get a break. A team that's on a splurge, grabs everything.

The best manager in the world is helpless when things get skidding. It's a tough old rattle, but you just have to sit and wait for the turn.

The Judge—I've been in baseball long enough to know that some [illegible] every day, wrecks [illegible] time. But [illegible] got good [illegible] out as an [illegible]. We realize that there are some weak spots on the ball club.

Lee Meadows.

We're going to fix them, but it's quite a job.

Before the trading season closed I interviewed every manager and owner in the league. I put up all sorts of propositions for deals and sales. And I was able to get exactly nothing.

I had ben told that money would make a ball club for anybody, but it didn't for us. We were willing to spend, but couldn't. The real ball players were not for sale. I did manage to get a few things started, though. We had three deals under way and I think they'll go through for next season.

WILL HAVE A DIFFERENT AND A BETTER CLUB.

We'll have a different ball club, anyhow, and a better one. This has been a tough introduction to baseball, but now that we're in it, we shall stick till we get somewhere. Boston is such an enthusiastic and loyal baseball city that it deserves a real ball club.

WHITE KAYOES MITCHELL IN 4TH ROUND

By Universal Service.

New York, July 19.—Charlie White of Chicago knocked out Richie Mitchell of Milwaukee in the fourth round.

The bout came to an end after White had twice dropped Mitchell to the canvas, once for the count of nine and again for a count of eight.

A sponge was thrown into the ring. It gave White technical credit for a knockout. Pinkie Mitchell, Richie's brother, protested that an outsider had thrown it, but the claim was overruled.

White took the offensive in the first round [illegible] and repeatedly rushed Mitchell to the ropes. He cut a gash over Mitchell's left eye early in the scrap and it gave him a big advantage. Blood flooded Mitchell's eye and rendered it useless.

MR. GALLAGHER and MR. SHEAN

Oh boy! Everybody a poet lariat. From among today's batch of Gallagher & Shean rhymes we select the following, which we think is the gnat's dinner jacket:

Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Oh, Mr. Gallagher!
I've lately seen a sight I'll not forget;
They were hanging on a line,
And contained a child of mine,
While a lot of folks were watching in the wet.

Oh Mr. Shean, Oh Mr. Shean!
I've a slight conception of the thing you mean,

It is used in times of stress,
And serves its purposes, I confess—

BREECHES BUOY, MR. GALLAGHER?
BOY'S BREECHES, MR. SHEAN.

Each week the G. & S. Editor selects the best of the lyrics printed in this space, and awards to the winner an original Gallagher & Shean strip drawing.

Try your hand at it. It's easy when you get started. Address your rhymes to Gallagher & Shean, care of the Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass.

Medbury Says—

By John P. Medbury

THE average fellow is an easy-going chap, but once in a while you meet a guy who's so tough he's even afraid of himself.

HE'S so hard boiled that he wouldn't talk to himself without taking his glasses off.

ANOTHER bird was so tough that he used to wear spurs at night to keep from falling out of bed.

THIS same guy wore an alarm clock for a wrist watch.

HIS wife was kind of hard boiled, too, and made all of her own hair nets out of chicken wire.

BUT she loved her husband even if he was so tough that he brushed his teeth with broken bottles.

HE was very fond of eating, but always used "BB" shots instead of pepper.

THE Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had to get after him last month for throwing elephants out of his bedroom window.

HE loves to bathe, but no tub will hold him, so every Saturday he puts a screen in front of the ocean while he takes a bath.

HE scrubs himself with cobble stones and uses a rowboat for a soap dish.

THEN he dries himself on a galvanized iron towel with barbed wire fringe.

HE knows he's hard and it almost frightens him to death when he's alone.

THE cemeteries are filled with guys who weren't afraid of him.

BUT he saved them having hospital bills. When he hits you, you don't need a doctor.

HE hands you a rap on the nose with one hand a burial permit with the other.

IF you don't fall from the first wallop he sends somebody to find out what's holding you up.

ONE guy from Chicago was so tough that when he broke his leg, the doctor had to use a couple of telegraph poles for splints.

SO whenever you meet one of these birds it's best to go your own way and pray that he doesn't go your way too.

ONCE OVERS

(Copyright 1923, by International Feature Service, Inc.)

BE FRIENDLY INSTEAD OF MERELY APPEARING FRIENDLY.

Instead of trying merely to appear friendly to that certain person, why are you not honestly friendly?

Real friendship brings true pleasure and a front of friendliness to cover a mask of criticism or some other quality, or for the purpose of furthering your own ends, is too easily penetrated to be of much use.

Are you tired of the "make-believes" that you like this one and that, whom you have never really tried to like?

At times you think you have many friends.

Certainly many persons appear friendly to you.

Take it home to yourself.

How many of your own acquaintances would you dare to depend upon in case you needed a real friend?

With how many persons are you on an honestly friendly basis?

If you are the sort that merely appear friendly do not expect to find the genuine, honest-to-goodness loyalty which you so constantly withold when it comes to those with whom you must associate.

Why not look at your acquaintances with the attitude of a person who is sincerely glad to be of service and willing to give friendship if agreeable?

Famous Words

A word of greeting. The good word. Passing the word. "Hell." A word of encouragement. Your word of honor. "Stop." The wrong word. "Never." A word to the wise. The eleventh word in the telegram. The last word.

"In the next few months, perhaps weeks, BLACK OXEN will become one of the best selling books in Chicago and by the middle of Spring any woman who has not read it will find herself hopelessly out of the talk of the town, for it has many elements of popularity—it is as timely as today's newspaper. It has both mystery and suspense and a love story. It is more frank that anything F. Scott Fitzgerald or Robert Herrick ever attempted, and yet entirely respectable, and it marks the high point of achievement for Mrs. Atherton as a novelist."

Rally Is Continued with Gains Over a Broad List in New York Market

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

—By B. C. Forbes—

Should the cry, "Back to the farm," be changed to "Leave the farm?"

Is our serious agricultural trouble caused by our having too many growers of food and raisers of food animals?

* * *

An Ohio farmer, Howard Essex, writes a real dirt-farmer's letter to readers of this column in which he claims that too many people have taken to the farms and that there are not enough people in the cities to buy and consume all that the country folks produce and to make all the things the farm folk need. He argues that the present evil could be cured by a great many rural folks quitting the tilling of the soil and joining the ranks of those who work in industrial centres. This, he points out, would help to even the balance between agricultural and non-agricultural prices.

* * *

Is Farmer Essex so very wide of the mark in his reasoning? The 1920 census showed we had 31,614,269 farm dwellers, of whom only one-fourth were under ten years of age.

Twenty millions more live in communities having a population of less than 2,500—really rural districts.

* * *

But readers will be more interested in what Farmer Essex has to say than anything I could say. Here is his letter, reproduced exactly as written:

Essex Farm, Spaulding, Ohio.

"Dear Sir:

"Being one of the readers of your column, I have noticed that you discuss the outlook of finance and other business other than agriculture. I would be interested in reading your views about us.

"Ever since I can remember there has been propaganda and loud shouting about how we are going to keep the boys on the farm. This has seemed silly in the face of the fact that there has always been a big oversupply of farmers, because every year there have been uncounted thousands of tons of food going to waste.

* * *

"There has been nothing but untruth told concerning this surplus. Farmers have been told that there was no market for it, and have believed this due to manipulation by speculators. City consumers have been told that farmers were so hoggish that they would rather see their produce rot than take a fair price for it. The truth has usually been that there was more food produced than all the people could possibly eat. The American appetite has been satisfied, and there were millions of pounds that we could not sell abroad.

"Why, then, should there be so many farmers? Think of the long hours in the fields, the constant struggle against weather and insects, slowly and painfully coaxing a crop from the soil, and then see it not used. Is there no useful occupation for these surplus farmers? Couldn't a great many be put to work producing something of value to society? Or have we enough of everything?

"I haven't. There are so many, many things I need yet to make me happy. Food is about the only thing I have in overabundance. I am a farmer and the city has fallen down in supplying my wants.

* * *

"If we were not always so hard up with notes to meet at harvest time we could store a part of our crops in our little granery and sell it out gradually during the year. What a maze of freight congestion and warehouse loss that would save every year. Farmers would get better and more uniform prices, while consumers would be assured of a steady food supply at fair prices. Of course, a few thousand speculators would have to go to work.

* * *

"The cure is to encourage more farmers to move to the city. They are going anyway. I really get to feeling optimistic about it until some reformer gets up and yells: 'We are facing ruin if we can't keep them down on the farm.'

"Suppose a great many farmers change to other industries, is there not danger of famine? Not at all. Real farming in America has hardly begun. England, with an inferior climate and soil, raises more than twice as much wheat to the acre as we. When our county agricultural agents get us farmers trained many folks will laugh at this, but J. J. Hill once said it. We can double our production with the very same labor we now employ. At that rate we could spare many hundreds of thousands of farmers.

* * *

"Let there be more and better factories. Waste of time and energy is becoming unendurable. From the chaos of semi-savagery is evolving system, which brings satisfaction to souls. For Pete's sake let's help, not hinder it.

"Respectfully yours,

"HOWARD ESSEX."

You will admit, I think, that this Ohio farmer has raised food for thought.

CHILDREN START PROVIDENCE FIRE

POINT OR MORE ADVANCES ARE NUMEROUS

Rally in the New York stock market was continued today with gains showing over a broad list. Advances of a point or more were fairly numerous. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Price changes were relatively small at the opening, but the trend seemed definitely upward.

Several of the low-priced stocks were strong, including Atlantic, Gulf, West Indies common and preferred, and Colorado Fuel. Houston Oil moved up nearly two points.

The demand for miscellaneous shares was considerably greater. Many of the ordinarily inactive stocks rose a point or more.

The customary leaders also moved higher, but their gains were largely confined to fractions except for Pan-American B and Gulf States Steel, which improved a point each.

Associated Oil advanced 4½ points and National Lead and Associated Dry Goods, 3.

Foundation Co. shares set another new 1923 high partly on news of its contract to build Tokio subway. Among issues up a point or better were Beechnut, Schulte Stores, du Pont, American Can, American Smelting, Anaconda, Coca Cola, Corn Products, Gulf States Steel, May Stores, Reading, Studebaker and Stewart-Warner Speedometer.

Sears Roebuck was up over 2 points.

BAY STATE INSURANCE INVESTMENTS BROADEN

Insurance companies are authorized under a new law to invest in several classes of securities in which they have been barred from putting their policyholders' money in the past. The new law has just gone into effect. It was passed by the legislature during the last session and was signed by Governor Cox on April 20.

The new classes of securities which are made legal investments for savings banks are:

Bonds of the Dominion of Canada, or of any province or municipality of the Dominion.

Railroad equipment trust notes, to finance the purchase of rolling stock and other equipment by railroads.

Bonds of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company and first mortgage bonds of its subsidiaries.

Bankers' acceptances and bills of exchange, if accepted by banks of the Federal Reserve System.

Mortgage bonds issued by light and power companies in States having public utility commissions.

The securities in which insurance companies are already authorized to invest are:

Public funds of the United States, District of Columbia or any State of the United States.

Bonds or notes of any county, city, town, school or water district in the State.

Bonds or notes of municipalities located in any other State and having a population of 100,000 or more.

Bonds or notes of municipalities located in any other State and having a debt of not over five per cent. of their valuation.

Bonds or notes of railroad or street railway corporations.

Loans upon improved and unencumbered real estate.

Loans upon their own insurance policies.

Replies to Investors

(Send inquiries on investments to Frank H. Meloon, Financial Editor, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston, Mass. Enclose stamped and self-addressed envelope for reply.)

PAN-AMERICAN.

TO I. O. Y., Geneva avenue—You ask if Pan-American Petroleum is a good investment. It certainly would be a good investment if there was any assurance that the present rate of dividend would be maintained. The "B" stock, receiving 8 per cent., yields 14.68 per cent. on its present selling level. Such an extremely high yield is persuasive evidence that it isn't a safe income.

It would not be met either to approve or disapprove of your purchasing this stock unless we knew more about your financial standing. Unless you have a heavy background of reserve capital invested in high grade securities it would be perfectly plain that this stock would not be indicated as a desirable purchase for you. You could not afford to take the risk.

OIL AND SUGAR.

To J. A. M., South Boston—Both the stocks you mention have declined originally from the high levels of this year. Mexican Seaboard Oil, selling around 12½, has been as high as 23¾ and as low as 9⅝. The company is paying dividends at the rate of $2 a share but it is operating in a territory which has in the past produced salt water along with the crude oil. The company may make good and continue to earn dividends, but the future is not clear enough to render advice as to the disposition of its stock.

Cuba Cane Sugar is close to the low of the year. It has sold as high as 20 and as low as 10. No dividend has ever been paid on the common stock of this company and no dividends are being paid on its preferred stock, the last payment having been distributed April 1, 1921. This company, after a deficit of $20,000,000 in 1921, reported a further deficit of over $2,000,000 in 1922. With these facts and the fact that the stock never received a dividend, it is clear that the issue is speculative.

UNION PACIFIC.

To P. S., Newport.—You ask for advice as to the purchase of Union Pacific. You also want our opinion as to the likelihood of that stock's continuing to pay a 10 per cent dividend. And you want to know what we consider the best buy in the market. We shall have to say in the beginning that the best purchase for one investor might not be the best purchase for another. It is quite possible that some investors should leave even good stocks alone and stick to high grade bonds. Whereas, others having plenty of good bonds might buy good dividend-paying stocks. Unfortunately, you do not give us any facts upon which to base an estimate of your requirements.

We can say, however, that Union Pacific at present levels, where it yields about 7¾ per cent, should be considered a sound purchase for those whose circumstances warrant their buying stocks. The only way an estimate of future dividend payments can be made is upon a record of past performances. The company has been paying 10 per cent annually for four years and for the last ten years it has amply covered them.

In 1922 it earned 12.76 per cent and in 1921 it earned 12.29 per cent. It is estimated that it is now earning at the annual rate of over 14 per cent. On that basis we should not look for a change in the dividend for some time to come. Among stocks we do not believe that you could get a much better purchase at the same yield.

CALL FOR COPPER IS MORE ACTIVE

Copper is in more active demand within the last few days for domestic and export account and producers have done considerable business for nearby and future shipment. The basis of trading is now 14¾ cents, with little if any available at 14⅝ cents, f. a. s. New York. There is less shading of prices going on and cheap lots have been pretty well cleaned up.

Domestic consumers have put out fresh inquiries and new inquiries are also coming on the market from foreign buyers. Recent sales for export were on a substantial scale. The market for domestic consumption is quoted at 14¾ cents to 15 c., delivered the usual railway zones.

STOCKS STRONG IN BOSTON TRADING

Stocks were strong in trading on the Boston Exchange today. Warren Bros. second preferred, of which there was no sale yesterday, was up 2 points at 35.

Point or better gains came for Boston Elevated, Copper Range, United Fruit, Mergenthaler, New Haven, General Electric, St. Mary's Land and Eastern Steamship.

Fractionally higher were United Shoe, U. S. Smelting, Ventura Oil, New England Telephone, Anaconda, Carson Hill Gold and National Leather.

Issues shaded included American Telephone, Ahmeek, Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine, Old Colony, Wolverine and Waldorf.

Traction company "sore spot" of considerable interest to New England investors has been revealed by decline in Galveston-Houston Electric to 5 on the Boston Stock Exchange, compared with the 1922 high of 39.

Galveston, Houston Electric and subsidiaries operate street railway systems in Galveston and Houston, interurban line between the two cities and do commercial electric lighting and power business in Galveston. The street railway in Houston is biggest end of the business.

While rates and franchises are satisfactory elsewhere, the company is still suffering from jitney competition and unremunerative fares in Houston. Company is confident present steps to facilitate remedial measures will be successful.

Preferred dividend requirements are $180,000 a year and there have been rumors of impending suspension of dividends accompanied by decline in stock to present levels around 45-47.

Management believes business will improve shortly, however, and is furthermore naturally reluctant to take a step likely to increase the cost of refinancing $2,200,000 7 per cent. notes due two years hence.

In consequence it is more than possible that preferred dividends may be continued at least for a time. Recovery of earning power on common stock will necessarily be more remote.

EASTERN MASS. ST. RY. NET IS LOWER

Report of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway for half year to June 30 shows net income after fixed charges and other deductions of $474,124, which is $32,067 less than corresponding figure for the first half of 1922. June net of $59,021 this year compares with $79,456 in June a year ago.

Eastern Massachusetts is now paying dividends at the rate of $6 per share on the first preferred and sinking fund stock, $6 on the preferred "B" and $5 on the adjustment. These dividends require $856,064 per annum. The net income for the first half year was at the rate of $948,248 for the full year, or $83,184 in excess of the requirement for dividends on stocks senior to the common.

The balance is equal to about $1 a share on the 84,881 shares of common stock. Last year the company reported earnings equal to $2.29 on the common after full allowance for preferred dividends.

GERMAN PRIEST LAUDS GIFTS OF U.S. CATHOLICS

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.
Universal Cable.

Berlin, July 19.—"Numerous apostles of charity have come to my assistance from all parts of the world, but the United States has produced the real princes of generosity and liberality, enabling me to realize this great scheme."

In these words Dr. Raphael Walzer, Lord Arch-Abbot of the famous and historical Benedictine Convent, enthusiastically expresses his gratitude to America at the dedication ceremonies of the new nunnery at Ravensburg, Wurttemberg.

The convent, idyllically situated amidst the mountains, will bear the name of the Abbey of St. Erentrud, and is destined to be the abode of fifty nuns who, until now, have lead a life of renunciation and privation at Curk, Austria. They are urgently needed in the new field of their activities.

The Arch-Abbot declared the execution of his philanthropic plan would have been impossible without the aid received from the United States. He added that American Roman Catholics had established a precedent for practical Christianity.

Five thousand persons, including Dukes Albrecht, Philip and Wolhelm of Wurttemberg were present at the dedication, which took place amidst clerical pomp.

His brother, Antonio, a war veteran, submitted to the transfusion, which took place at the hospital. Drs. Mixter and Newhall performed the operation.

A child playing in the street related what she had seen to her father, a Methuen police officer. The victim was found in bed in a serious condition at his home. The stabbing is said to have been caused in an argument concerning the ownership of a bottle of liquor.

CITIZEN TESTS 'FIREPROOF' COAL LAW

Haverhill, July 19.—The first complaint under the new law relative to "fireproof" coal has been received by Sealer of Weights and Measures Edward M. Putnam.

A citizen complained about the quality of coal that had been delivered. The sealer visited the house and after looking over the coal informed the complainant that he thought the coal was fairly good coal and did not think he was justified in making complaint.

The citizen did not agree and the sealer carried a sample of the coal to Agent George T. Lennon of the Board of Health, as provided by the new law. Agent Lennon sent the coal to the State chemist to be analyzed and is now awaiting a report.

If the coal is found to contain a certain amount of foreign matter the Board of Health can prosecute.

The widow receives everything that the husband and wife acquired together, including their home and fixtures.

INSURANCE FIRMS ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Washington, July 19.—Asserting that insurance companies have confiscated millions of dollars because of lapsed payments by policy holders, Representative Thomas, Democrat, of Oklahoma, announced he would introduce a bill in the next Congress seeking to guarantee to the public "the full benefits under all insurance policy contracts." Many who have permitted their policies to lapse, he said, do not know such policies have a value if they have been in force for more than three years.

MILTON BOY LOSES LIFE IN MAINE POND

Bath, Me., July 19.—Robert J. Chase, son of Joseph R. Chase of East Milton, Mass., was drowned in Damariscotta Pond while swimming for a skiff which had drifted from an island to which he and his cousin had gone. When Charles saw Robert was drowning he went to his rescue. Robert grabbed him and nearly pulled him under. Robert's body was recovered an hour later by Robert Webster, fifteen, of this

Fleets in the Air

They Alone Will Count in Future

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

The French, most logical people on earth, and attending strictly to business, hope for the best and prepare for the OTHER thing. Their army is put "on a war basis" with 666,000 highly trained experienced fighters. And France pushes ahead with her aerial fighting fleet. She is determined that England, whose ships so long have ruled the ocean, shall never rule the air.

Here in America we are going to sink two more warships by dropping two-ton bombs on them from flying machine. One ship will be a moving target, the other will stand still.

Rather expensive targets, but anything is cheap, if it helps this nation to prepare for the only war that is to count in future—WAR FROM THE AIR.

There is no longer need of experiments, however, only need of practice. A twenty-five-thousand-dollar flying machine with a crew of two men and a couple of bombs can sink a forty-million-dollar battleship and a thousand men.

You don't have to HIT the battleship with your bomb. Drop a ton of TNT twenty feet from the side of a battleship. It explodes in the water, and will crush in the steel side of the ship as you would crush an eggshell.

You Never Can Tell

Look Closely, Then Decide

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Don't judge men by appearances, and don't be too sure that the man with the hoe might not do well with the pen, if he had a chance.

Joseph Farrington, born in 1741, dead in 1821, was an artist and kept a diary, just discovered. He described a certain individual living on £70 a year thus: "He is married and has a family. He is a middle-sized man, black complexion. And his general appearance that of a tradesman or mechanic. He is not acquainted with the Latin language. His father was a gardener in Ayrshire." That's all. Farrington was describing Robert Burns, the poet.

He says of Napoleon Bonaparte, quoting one that had just been with him, "Thoughtful and deliberative, but having once resolved, lightning is not quicker than he in execution, and humanity never stands in his way."

What would be the wealth of this world—all wealth comes from thought applied to the earth—if the average man were "like lightning in execution," instead of being slow and letting thought die without execution?

It is about all the average mortal can do to get up when the alarm clock rings; a good many millions cannot even do that.

Cold Weather—Eat Meat

Poles and Equator Change Man's Diet

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

From the Doukhobors you learn that you can't be a successful vegetarian in a COLD climate. The Doukhobors brought from Russia many beautiful ideas. They don't want to own property, they won't eat animals. But they bought land in the cold climate of Saskatchewan, and you can't live in that kind of a climate without plenty of meat. Diet isn't a matter of SENTIMENT, it's a matter of SCIENCE.

At the North Pole a man eats twenty pounds of meat a day and thrives. He needs it.

At the equator he can live on a few handfuls of rice and thrive also. So the Doukhobors are going South. This will interest vegetarian ladies and gentlemen, who haven't learned that Providence arranged for the patient ox, who is in no hurry, to change grass into meat and for the thinking man to take the concentrated grass in the form of a beefsteak.

If you really USE your brain, vegetarianism won't do. Wagner and Tolstoy both tried it and had to give it up.

Guns Will Talk

Their Language Is Plain

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

Mr. Baldwin, British Prime Minister, tells France that destroying Germany will destroy, economically, the rest of Europe. France replied yesterday by seizing three more German cities, Limburg, Elberfeld and Barmen. This means additional cutting into Germany's industrial heart by the French troops.

England needs apparently a more forceful spokesman. In the end, cannon and bombs from the air will probably do the real talking. Men listen when cannon talk, and sometimes wish they had listened sooner.

A New Fuel

Mussolini and Bonaparte

Copyright, 1923, Star Company

The Navy has tested alcohol and gasoline as fuel for flying machines. Thirty per cent. alcohol, seventy per cent. gasoline gives a fuel that produces equal power with less heat. Alcohol can be made from all growing things, and for less than the present price of gasoline. That's a useful experiment.

Mussolini lets the newspapers of Italy know that some things may be said, others not. It happens usually where one man or a small group controls. Mussolini imitates another great Italian, Napoleon Bonaparte. He said his empire could not last if he granted freedom of the press, and he was right. It didn't last, anyhow, by the way.

HOME-LIKE HOTEL IN LONDON

LONDON, July 19.—London's most expensive and luxurious private hotel is now to be found in Pembridge Square, W., where two Englishmen have established a "home from home" for American millionaires.

Every device that can accentuate comfort and ease has been included, such as steam heat, ever-ready hot water in every room, private telephones and a plentiful supply of baths—sunk in the floors—and shower baths.

Blames Woman

Editor Boston American:

We have read with much interest the recent articles regarding the "Kissing Pastor," and although we are not religiously inclined or prone to defend misconduct, it really seems to us that something ought to be said regarding the woman in the case.

It may not be perfectly correct for a clergyman to kiss a woman other than his wife, but if that is wrong, to our minds this female of the species who greeted her husband's arrival with the news that an elderly man, her pastor, had kissed her, knowing the trouble it would cause, is far worse.

MAY B. WRIGHT.

The Melting Pot

Editor, Boston American:

The influx of foreigners doesn't help the country, as only a very small minority till the soil or do manual labor. The majority stick to the cities, already overcrowded. Newcomers should be compelled to work in the fields for two years after their arrival. Then they will be a help to America.

Deserted Wife in Need

Editor Helping Hand:

I am a young mother 25 years old with a baby boy eleven months and a little girl three. My husband deserted me the Saturday following Bunker Hill Day. He went to his work, got his pay, and has never been seen here since. I had to give up my two nice rooms in Boston and move over to four empty rooms here in Chelsea. I have nothing but my trunk and my babies' two cribs. I am writing to ask if it would be possible to get a few bits of furniture to put into my rooms, such as pieces of oil cloth, a mattress of some kind, bedstead and bureau, or chair or table for the kitchen. I try to make fifty cents last two or three days, and find it impossible. My baby is teething and should have milk, but today we had cornstarch and tea. Would it be possible for me to have enough to eat for a week and the things I asked for, or am I asking for too much?

MRS. J. B. W.

Will Send Clothes

Editor Helping Hand:

Received your letter this morning and thank you for the address you sent. Your work is wonderful, I think. It helps out so many sick, weary mothers that no one would ever hear of but for this way. I have been sick so long and with a large family and small wages I pity other mothers. If you will please send me the address of some mother who needs some clothes for a baby between a year and a year and a half old, I will be glad to send her some, as my youngest has outgrown them. I hope your good work will still progress.

MRS. L. C. 3.

THE HELPING HAND

Do Not Inclose Stamps. Letters Will Not Be Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls. No Names Are Published.

Many thanks, both for the offer and the praise. You have been sent the address of Mrs. H. F. P., who has a child that age.

For Baby and Woman

Editor Helping Hand:

Would you please send me the address of this lady whose clipping I have enclosed? I have some things for the little one. I also have some things that a woman size 38 could wear, that I would be glad to send by parcel post. Your work is certainly a deserving one. May it prosper and all those who help receive their rewards.

MRS. E. J.

They deserve the best of rewards. M. C.'s address has been sent you. The clothing, size 38, will be held for replies. Many thanks.

Has Four Children

Editor Helping Hand:

I am writing to you to see if you can help a neighbor who has four children, three of them boys. Her husband was out of work for some time, and they have had a great deal of sickness in addition. She would appreciate it very much if you could get something for her 12-year-old boy to wear and also for the boy five.

MRS. D. B.

Offers Skirt

Editor Helping Hand:

Please send me the address of M. A. W. Although I have sent four parcels I think I can find some things for these poor people. I also have an all-wool gray skirt and underskirt suitable for an elderly person who takes a 30 or 32-inch waist measure. The Helping Hand is a wonderful way of helping the poor.

MRS. M. C.

Many thanks for all you are doing and the kind words, also. You have been sent M. A. W.'s address, and the skirts will be held for replies.

Many Articles Offered

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a list of baby's clothing, consisting of shoes, rompers, dresses, petticoats, silk and wool shirts and bands, and sweaters, that I will be glad to send to Mrs. D. H., who has a child a year and a half old, and is expecting another. I also have clothing for herself.

MRS. J. J. M.

Many thanks. Mrs. D. H.'s address has been sent you, and I know she will be very grateful for all those things.

Hard Time to Provide

Editor Helping Hand:

We have five children of our own and three motherless little ones that we took rather than have them separated, although we have a hard time to provide for our own. My husband earns small pay, and we have very little of this world's goods. I have to wash out their clothes at night for the next day, and also my own. We are about destitute. I would like to go to church once in a while, but I have nothing fit to wear. My size is 36 or 38, and the children are baby, one year; girls, three and five; boys, eight (twins), ten, twelve and fourteen. I can sew and make over. I love to keep them nice and clean but get discouraged.

MRS. L. M. C.

Will Send Crib

Editor Helping Hand:

Will you please send me Mrs. D. H.'s address? She is a war veteran's wife who asked for a crib. I have one I will send her. It is in very good condition.

MRS. E. K.

Mrs. D. H. has been supplied with a crib. You have been sent the address of Mrs. T. H. T., a seventeen-year-old mother, who is greatly in need of such an article. Many thanks.

Offers Baby Carriage

Editor Helping Hand:

I have a baby carriage in good condition which a mother can have by calling for, and also a single bed with spring.

MRS. E. B. 2.

Many thanks. Mrs. H. A. S., a widow, who needs a carriage for her baby, and Mrs. H. C., an old lady who asked for a bed, have been notified of your generous offer. Baby carriages are especially needed.

Four Dresses to Give

Editor Helping Hand:

I have four dresses, two with bloomers, for a little girl just about three years old, also two aprons, a few petticoats and a pair of white bloomers same size. Will you please send me someone's address? Later I will have more for the same child.

MRS. L. R. S.

Many thanks. You have been sent the address of Mrs. H. F. P., who has a child that age in need of clothing.

THE PRESIDENT AND MINNESOTA VOTERS DRIVE SPIKES

By Herbert Kaufman

WHILE our President dramatically drives a golden spike in Alaska, Minnesota voters, expressing "unrest and dissatisfaction with economic conditions" (Republican State Chairman Adams speaking), proceed to spike a fond administration hope. "Too much Johnson," by 40,000 votes.

Having defeated the enemy, the victor, like Cincinnatus of old, returns to his plow. The boys need him to finish hay making.

Farm-Laborites herewith win another Senate seat. If Congress doesn't promptly pass laws and make emergency appropriations to help agriculture they are likely to send even more special pleaders to Washington.

Gambrett, whose death at forty-two, was a calamity to France and civilization, once said that parties are made by ideals and groups by interests.

The drift of American politics confirms his analysis. New lineups are inevitable as class consciousness asserts itself.

Workers, farmers and industrialists have only begun to reach for control of the government. Guilds, sodalities and blocs will increasingly disorder the plans and prospects of Democrats and Republicans.

Unions, granges and brotherhoods demands the grinding of privileged axes and harass candidates for pledges of prior legislative consideration.

Dollar-wheat will change a million Northwest votes. Blind fidelity to oppressive tariff schedules, twice that many.

World Courts and Leagues of Nations won't be the live issues in 1924.

Taking the Wind Out of Their Sails

Mr. Harding wisely decides to shorten his junket. Alaska is too far from home and broken fences.

Frank A. Vanderlip evidently hadn't read the latest Department of Commerce bulletin when he remarked upon "the small outlet to foreign countries of our enormous production."

Contrary to popular belief, England, France, Holland, Germany and Belgium last year bought 49 per cent. more food and manufactured products in local markets than average purchases during the five years before 1914.

Half of our 1922 exports were breadstuffs, canned goods and provisions.

Propagandists for war debtors, protesting that the only remedy against agricultural depression is to lend Old World customers necessary spending money, will have to find a fresh justification for their maudlin or inspired Samaritanism.

Gander Sauce for the Goose

Mr. Vanderlip also comments upon prevalent wages and is of the opinion that they will remain high.

Plumbers' helpers, striking for a raise from $2.50 and $4.50 to $6 a day, are certainly doing their audacious best to keep 'em up.

A long cry from the apprenticeship system under which boys were charged a fee to learn trades and compelled to work gratis until efficient craftsmen.

Doctors, lawyers, engineers, chemists and architects still do that.

The goose would simply be getting gander sauce if brainworkers argued for State subsidy while being educated.

But technicians foolishly refuse to organize. Otherwise they wouldn't pay the highest pro rata income taxes of all.

Senator Brookhart returns from Moscow an enthusiastic supporter of the Soviets. He arrives just in time to sue Magnus Johnson for infringing upon his dress-suit campaign issue.

These articles, you may remember, were followed with interviews by the putative Portia and authenticated by signed portraits of the lady.

Petrograd officials insist that she is a myth. Such a woman might have served in some drumhead court through the early confusion of the revolution, but none recently.

The Flivver Is Almost as Prolific

Citizens of Lebanon, North Carolina, which isn't even indicated by Atlas publishers, kill 14,000 rats in three weeks. As many are born per hour in Manhattan.

Two hundred million dollars' worth of yearly depredations shall eventually compel Federal attention to these brigands.

Friend rat is a gift from China by way of The Steppes and trading vessels. The only sea-faring animal natural history knows. Spanish explorers introduced the pest hereabout.

The London Sunday Express considers Henry Ford—whose flivver is almost as prolific—the richest man on earth, with John D. Rockefeller running a close second and Sir Basil Zaharoff showing for place.

He Fell in His Harness

"Sid" is gone. Mortally stricken, he held his post until the sundown gun. Salute a soldier in passing.

Recent numbers of the American Magazine are peculiarly important insomuch as they reflect the personality of an editor consciously in pawn to death.

Siddall knew the hopelessness of his case. Two years ago surgery confessed that it could do nothing for him. Thereafter every day was an unexpected reprieve—each night brought his last probable sleep.

His monument is a national publication lifted from 400,000 to more than 2,000,000 monthly circulation by a genius for making men believe in themselves—teaching them self-faith—singing the success of courageous folk, and reminding other ordinary persons how much may be always achieved through a little wit and a lot of will.

He fell wearing his harness and still in the shafts.

"So live that when the summons come—
Thou go not, like the quarry slave at night,
Scourged to his dungeon; but sustained and soothed
By an unflattering trust, approach thy grave
Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch
About him and lies down to pleasant dreams."
